Hear blues artist Big Monti at Merry Time All proceeds from concert will be donated to Danish Maid Bakery

ASTORIA — The Merry Time Bar & Grill is hosting renowned Portland blues artist Big Monti at 9:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 23 in "Blues for the Bakery," a fundraiser concert for the owners of the Danish Maid Bakery.

The bakery has been closed since mid September after a family medical issue. Jan Lindstrom, the bakery's co-owner, said the closure started after her husband and fellow co-owner,

John, had a leg amputated. John Lindstrom began working at the Danish Maid Bakery in 1974. He and Jan bought the shop in 1986, and have run it with their three children.

There is no timetable for the return of the Danish Maid Bakery, a local staple that has been serving cookies, doughnuts, pastries and other treats downtown for 90 years. The bakery also supplied baked goods to local shops, like bread to Merry

Time Bar & Grill.

While John is recovering and rehabilitating at home, the Astoria community and downtown businesses have rallied behind the family, starting a GoFundMe account, a fundraising account at Wells Fargo, and donating profits.

Merry Time Bar & Grill will donate 100 percent of proceeds from the $5 cover fee for the Friday concert to Danish Maid Bakery.

Portland blues artist Big Monti will perform at Merry Time Bar & Grill Oct. 23.

The concert features the blues music of Big Monti, aka Monti Amundson. When Big Monti takes the stage, it's clear there's more going on than the usual extended guitar solos — the man plays and sings larger than life.

When Monti gets compared to Stevie Ray Vaughan or Johnny Winter, he just says "thank you." The fact is, the big man has his own style. "I'm a blues guitar player in a band that plays rock 'n' roll," is how Monti explains it.

He doesn't so much as straddle the line between the genres as bend it, ignore it, or race back and forth across it until both sides go up in flames.
