SPORTS & COMMUNITY REPORTING

Want to play a key role in the lives of Pacific County young people? Enthusiastic about small-town life on this amazing coast and interested in meeting more people here?

The Chinook Observer, the Washington coast's 115-year-old mega-award-winning newspaper & website, is looking for an accomplished writer to cover local sports and people news.

This person will work about 25 to 30 hours a week, attend home games and forge strong working relationships with high school coaches, students, parents and other community members. This will often entail working in the evening, posting preliminary stories at www.chinookobserver.com and polishing finished versions of stories over weekends to be available in time for our print-production deadline. Depending on your interests and availability, this will be a year-round job that transitions to writing features and outdoor-recreation stories in the summer months. This job requires accurate, fast, objective and creative writing skills. You should also be prepared to take many of your own photos to accompany stories. Wage will be up to $15 an hour, depending on experience. Apply now to begin working at the start of basketball season. Send resume and letter of interest to EO Media Group, PO Box 2048, Salem, OR 97308-2048, by fax to 503-371-2935 or e-mail hr@eomediagroup.com
