OBITUARIES

Florence Emily Krug Ystad Jacobson

Astoria

Oct. 19, 1911 — Oct. 25, 2015

Florence was born Oct. 19, 1911, to Martin and Laura Krug, in Valley City, North Dakota. Florence passed away Oct. 25, 2015, having just celebrated her 104th birthday.

Her early years were spent growing up and working on the family farm with her four siblings, brothers Martin and Lewis, and sisters Pearl and May. These difficult years, coupled with the Great Depression, formed her lifelong traits of hard work, stubborn self-reliance and frugality. More importantly, it stressed appreciation of family, as well as the little things in life.

Florence graduated from Valley City High School. In the early 1930s she traveled with her sister to Oregon, where she met and married Harold Ystad in Astoria April 8, 1944. During the war years, Florence worked in the defense industry running a drill press and lathe making airplane parts in Portland, a true "Rosie the Riveter."

After the war Harold and Florence returned to Astoria, where she worked in retail sales for Montgomery Ward and Fisher Brothers. Her working years were cut short by the birth of her only child, Jay Alan, in 1954. Shortly after his birth they moved to Port Orford, where Harold was a commercial fisherman.

Due to Harold's ill health, the family moved back to Astoria. The traits that were developed in her formative years became a great asset to help hold the family together. At this time she worked for several employers, and finally retired from Clatsop County District Court in 1979.

Florence Jacobson

After Harold died in 1971, she devoted herself to getting her son educated and established. Accomplishing this, she married Ted Jacobson in 1979. They enjoyed many years of retirement fishing, clamming and spending winters in Arizona until Ted's death in 1999. Florence moved to Clatsop Retirement Village in 2004. She developed many friends among the residents and staff. She cherished her special friendship with Robert "Doc" Niekas.

In her last years she enjoyed the visits of her grandson, Chris Ystad and his wife Lisa, and great-grandson Tanner. At the time of her passing, she was anticipating the birth of her second great-grandson in December.

Florence is survived by her son and daughter-in-law Jay and Eileen Ystad of Astoria; her grandson Chris and his wife Lisa, and great-grandson Tanner of Sitka Alaska; and nephews, nieces and cousins.

Florence's memorial service is at 1 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 31, at First Lutheran Church. Hughes-Ransom Mortuary is in charge of the arrangements. An online guest book may be signed at www.hughes-ransom.com

Police see surge in IRS scam calls

The Daily Astorian

Astoria Police have recently received reports of a surge in IRS scam phone calls.

The scam is listed in the IRS's "Dirty Dozen" list of tax scams for the year, according to police.

The IRS describes the scam as being aggressive in efforts to gain personal information, and is happening across the country.

Scammers employ sophisticated tactics like "caller ID spoofing" to alter phone numbers, making it appear that they are calling from the IRS, according to police, which gives the appearance of a legitimate contact in order to dupe their targets.

Scammers use fake names, fake badge numbers and make threats to their intended victims including potential arrest, deportation or license revocation if they don't get the information they seek.

Astoria Police is reminding people they should never give out personal information to someone they do not know and they should not authorize payment over the phone in these situations.

There are many ways to tell if you have received an IRS scam call by knowing things that the IRS will never do.

The IRS will never:

- Call to demand immediate payment, nor call about taxes owed without first having mailed a bill;
- Demand the person pay taxes without giving an opportunity to question or appeal the amount they say is owed;
- Require the person use a specific payment method for taxes, such as a prepaid debit card;

• Ask for credit or debit card numbers over the phone;

• Threaten to bring in local police or other law-enforcement groups to have the person arrested for not paying;

• Use email, text messages or any social media to discuss personal tax issues involving bills or refunds.

"There is little we can do at the local level to stop these scammers who often operate from foreign countries," Deputy Chief Eric Halverson said. "However, if you are unsure and want to file a report with us, we can at least reassure you that the call is a scam and we are not coming to arrest you, despite what the caller tells you."

Trick-or-treaters welcome downtown

The Daily Astorian

Downtown Astoria will be decked out for trick-or-treaters from 3 to 5 p.m. Saturday, the Astoria Downtown Historic District Association said.

Tomorrow's National Weather

The Daily Astorian

Medix Ambulance, Astoria Fire Department and Astoria 911 Dispatch personnel will be handing out bags of Halloween goodies Saturday, as long as the weather holds out.

Various public safety vehicles to be downtown Astoria between 3 and 5 p.m.

However, with the current weather forecast of 3 to 5 inches of rain and 50 mph winds, "we want to ensure the safety and comfort of all involved in this event. Best case scenario is we see a break in the weather for a couple hours Saturday and can distribute our Halloween bags," said Jeff Rusiecki, the Astoria 911 manager.

If the weather allows, a fire truck, Medi-Van and a 911 command vehicle will be parked on Commercial Street.
