

Join weekly birding surveys at Sunset Beach this month

Still time to go birding at state parks

WARRENTON — Do you have an appreciation for birds and want some experience on how best to see them? Or are you an experienced birder wanting to help with bird surveys? Here's your chance to join Let's Go Birding, a program by Oregon State Parks.

Birding activities are free, and birders 8 years old and older are welcome; children age 8 to 14 must be accompanied by a parent or guardian. Loaner binoculars are available for up to 10 birders. Bring your own binoculars if available.

In 2015, Sunset Beach State Recreation Site and the Fort to Sea Trail is the site of weekly bird surveys. The surveys monitor the bird species that use the park from season to season. The surveys take around two hours and cover several diverse habitats along the trail.

Sunset Beach surveys will meet from 9 to 11 a.m. Saturday, Dec. 12; Friday, Dec. 18; Wednesday, Dec. 23; and

Seaside Public Library shows North Coast printmakers' art

SEASIDE — The North Coast Printmakers Collective is now showing original artwork at the Seaside Public Library. The exhibit opened Dec. 8 and is on display in the Community Room and foyer through Jan. 26.

These inspired and obsessed artists produce quality original prints reflecting personal insights and shared aesthetics. While the incentive to work cooperatively is primarily based on the common need to access printmaking equipment and studio space, the opportune outcome has been artistic growth for members through the interactive flow of ideas and technical knowledge.

Included in the collective's repertoire are monotypes, mono-prints, intaglio prints of all varieties, and relief prints including linocuts and woodblocks.

The North Coast Printmakers Collective endeavors to promote education and excellence in fine art printmaking. Formally established in 2010, this group originally formed to raise public awareness of printmaking as an art genre and to find venues for members' collective work. It has offered six successful public exhibits.

The group is comprised of approximately 14 established and emerging artists working frequently in a community-based program at Clatsop Community College.

The Seaside Public Library is located at 1131 Broadway. For more information, call 503-738-6742 or visit www.seasidelibrary.org
