Seaside Public Library welcomes folksinger

Storyteller, autoharpist Adam Miller to perform Jan. 28

SEASIDE — The Friends of the Seaside Library will welcome folksinger, storyteller and autoharp virtuoso Adam Miller at 7 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 28. The concert will take place in the Community Room of the library.

One of the premier autoharpists in the world, Miller is a renowned American folksinger and storyteller. An accomplished folklorist, historian, musicologist and song-collector, he has amassed a repertoire of over 5,000 songs. Miller accompanies his baritone voice with lively finger-picking acoustic guitar and autoharp melodies. His time-honored traditional folk songs and ballads will have people of all ages singing along, and Miller will interweave stories that will evoke a by-gone time when entertainment was homemade.

Traveling 70,000 miles each year, this 21st century troubadour has performed from the Everglades to the Arctic Circle. Using the experiences of the road, Miller points out fascinating connections between events in history and the songs that survived them. And like radio's Paul Harvey, he manages to give you "the rest of the story" about some of our nation's richest musical treasures.
