Indoor Super Sale issues call for vendors

Sign up to sell wares at Grays River Valley Center this March

ROSBURG, Wash. — Organizers issue a call for vendors and individuals who wish to participate in the third annual Community In-Door Super Sale at Johnson Park Center from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, March 26.

This event is a fundraiser for Grays River Valley Center at Johnson Park, the old Rosburg school building. The center serves the community in many ways with learning and human development activities: It's a lending library, computer center, sewing instruction center, gym, and the Wahkiakum County west end food bank, among other things.

Items for sale can be gently used, repurposed, vintage, antique, or newly crafted.

There will be over 50 table spaces available, approximately 5 feet by 10 feet, plus room for tents on the lawn outside. The cost for table space is $15 for the first table space, and $12 for each additional space. Lawn space for a tent is $25.

Call 360-465-2273 for more information and to make your reservation. Set up will be Friday afternoon, March 25.

Food and beverages will be available during the sale, and a bake sale will be provided by the Friendship Circle of the Grays River United Methodist Church.

Learn about lower Columbia bird species

SKAMOKAWA, Wash. — The histories of lower Columbia River birds will be the theme of a program offered at 1 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 27 at the River Life Interpretive Center at Redmen Hall. Andrew Emlen will speak about bird species that are connected with the river.

The program is co-sponsored by Willapa Hills Audubon Society and Friends of Skamokawa. Admission is free, but donations to the building upkeep will be accepted.

Since starting the Wahkiakum Christmas Bird Count circle in 1998 sponsored by WHAS, Emlen has been the organizer and compiler for the count. He has conducted a shorebird census for U.S. Fish and Wildlife, helping to establish the lower Columbia as a national Important Bird Area, and he leads field trips for WHAS, Washington Ornithological Society, and the American Birding Association. He is currently co-owner of Columbia River Kayaking. Following Emlen's program, retired National Park Service artist Keith Hoofnagle will read from his book "The Story of Linda Lookout," a history of the fire lookouts originally published in 1965 and recently re-published. Copies will be available for sale after the program, and Hoofnagle will sign books.

For parking and accessibility information and directions to the River Life Interpretive Center in Skamokawa's National Historic District, call 360-795-3007.
