Chocolate Kush - By Green Freedom / Sweet-As Strain- Indica

Strain Highlights- Chocolate Kush is a powerful indica strain that captures the best of its two parent strains: Mazar, with its resin-oozing buds, lends its potent full-body euphoria, while its other pure Indica parent passes on a pungent aroma of hashy incense. This combines to create a strain with a strong chocolate aroma with hints of vanilla and a sweet, earthy Skunk flavor. It's a good option for anxiety, pain, nausea, sleeplessness, and lack of appetite. The mostly physical body effects are relaxation, with a shot of euphoria, happiness, mental relief, and creativity. This is a great strain for those sleepless nights. Be aware, the sativa-dominant "Chocolope Kush" sometimes goes by the name Chocolate Kush, do not be confused, so be sure to confirm which strain's genetics you are about to purchase with your BudTender. If you're looking for the heavy-handed Indica, to bring insomnia to it's knees, ask for the real "Indica - Chocolate Kush Phenotype".

SEA LEVEL - By Typhoon Yolonda Strain- Indica

Strain Highlights- Sea Level is an indica with a mysterious background. With seeds that originate from British Columbia, this large golden plant produces pink hairs, and extremely sticky, stinky thick buds. The resulting buds/flowers are very resinous with a strong, fruity terpene profile, and strong potency. Not often found in the US, a true Northwest plant, Sea Level provides many benefits. This Strain is favored by Fisherman, Crabbers, and Artists desiring a little stronger full body effect that a Sativa can't provide. What is a True non-hybrid Indica — Buds have Broad leaves, flavors are sweet, Total Cannabinoids THC % range from 16% to 18%, offer overall relaxing and pain relieving effects to your muscles, spasms, inflammation, anxiety, stress, nausea, headaches, migraines, and inter-ocular pressure. Accomplish those tedious tasks with ease. Effects can be sedating and relaxing at the same time, but all depends on the individuals metabolism, and chemistry. Not all Indica Strains/Phenotypes are the same nor do they all cause couch lock or sleepiness in an individual, all depends on strength of the total Cannabinoids, and strength of THC-A present, which is the positive psychological/Euphonia effect of the Cannabinoids present in the plant/buds. The amount you consume in any time period will affect your experience either with physical relief, or a combination of physical relief and sedation, the option is yours to choose.

Mango Strain- Indica

Strain Highlights- For most users, this strain kicks in immediately, producing both strong body and mind effects. Many also find that this strain makes them more open and talkative. Occasionally, it can cause 'the giggles,' especially with higher doses. It is a classic 'munchies' strain, and many patients use it to calm nausea and induce appetite. This strain may also cause drowsiness, usually starting halfway through the duration of the high. It is can work wonders on chronic aches and pains, especially joint pain.
