

Sign up for a paint and sip experience

Create a painting and enjoy a glass of wine at Fairweather

SEASIDE — Fairweather House & Gallery will host a paint and sip experience from 7 to 9 p.m. Friday, March 25.

Artist Susan Curington will teach participants how to create a painting of grass dancing in the sea breeze. Using acrylic paint, various mediums and a few secret techniques, you'll be guided step by step. Learn how to bring grasses to life with highlights and shadows, warm and cool colors.

No experience is necessary; non-painters and painters are welcome. All art materials (canvas, paint, mediums, brushes, etc.) will be provided — you bring the sips. Participants should bring their favorite wine and snacks and maybe some friends to share it.

To sign up, call Fairweather House & Gallery at 503-738-8899 or stop by in person at 612 Broadway. The class costs $45 per person.

"I am in love with — smitten by — nature," Curington says. "I thrill when I see light dancing through a backlit leaf or flower petal, or the radiance of a butterfly wing. Color and luminosity in hundreds of vivid and subtle hues surprise me and move me in the way music moves others; they go beyond words and straight to my heart. Similarly, I love the surprises inherent in creating art, both in looking closely and carefully, and in applying paint to canvas.

"Through my paintings I
