

Back of the bill for Jackson, as Tubman moves up

Hamilton stays on $10 bill

By MARTIN CRUTSINGER
AP Economics Writer

WASHINGTON — U.S. paper money is getting a historic makeover.

Harriet Tubman, an African-American abolitionist born into slavery, will be the new face on the $20 bill.

The leader of the Underground Railroad is replacing the portrait of Andrew Jackson, the nation's seventh president and a slave owner, who is being pushed to the back of the bill.

And Alexander Hamilton, the nation's first Treasury secretary who's enjoying a revival thanks to a hit Broadway play, will keep his spot on the $10 note after earlier talk of his removal.

The changes are part of a currency redesign announced Wednesday by Treasury Secretary Jacob Lew, with the new $20 marking two historic milestones: Tubman will become the first African-American on U.S. paper money and the first woman to be depicted on currency in 100 years.

"This gesture sends a powerful message, because of the tendency in American history, the background of excluding women and marginalizing them as national symbols," said Riche Richardson, associate professor in the Africana Studies and Research Center at Cornell University. "So even the symbolic significance of this cannot be overstated."

Lew also settled a backlash that had erupted after he had announced an initial plan to remove Hamilton from the $10 bill in order to honor a woman on the bill. Instead, the Treasury building on the back of the bill will be changed to commemorate a 1913 march that ended on the steps of the building. It will also feature suffragette leader Lucretia Mott, Sojourner Truth, Susan B. Anthony, Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Alice Paul.

The back of the $20, which now shows the White House, will be redesigned to include the White House and Jackson, whose statue stands across the street in Lafayette Park.

The $5 bill will also undergo change: The illustration of the Lincoln Memorial on the back will be redesigned to honor "events at the Lincoln Memorial that helped to shape our history and our democracy."

The new image on the $5 bill will include civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr., who gave his famous "I have a dream" speech on the steps of the memorial in 1963, and Marian Anderson and Eleanor Roosevelt. Anderson, an African-American opera singer, gave a concert at the memorial in 1939 after she had been blocked from singing at the then-segregated Constitution Hall.

The Lincoln Memorial concert was arranged by Mrs. Roosevelt.

An online group, Women on 20s, said it was encouraged that Lew was responding to its campaign to replace Jackson with a woman. But it said it wouldn't be satisfied unless Lew committed to issuing the new $20 bill at the same time that the redesigned $10 bill is scheduled to be issued in 2020.

Rates: Proposed budget contains several significant one-time expenses

City Manager Brett Estes said the city has to prepare for anticipated rate increases for public-worker pensions in 2017, as well as higher costs related to mandatory sick leave benefits and minimum wage increases.

"We're not struggling to be able to have a good healthy reserve," Estes said. "At the same time, we want to make sure that we're providing the services that are needed and that we're not bankrolling money unnecessarily."

The proposed budget contains several significant one-time expenses, calls for setting aside funds for a new library project, and makes greater use of hotel-room tax money for tourist-related needs downtown and at parks.

The city would direct $280,000 for a new roof for the aging library at 10th and Duane streets and reserve $750,000 for a multimillion-dollar library project.

Tourism money

The city would take $98,000 from the Promote Astoria fund, which is financed by hotel-room taxes, to pay for private mowing and maintenance on the Astoria Riverwalk, the Smith Point roundabout and several other small parks and triangles downtown.

Using the tourism promotion money for private maintenance could free up parks staff to concentrate on the upkeep of more traditional parks and the city-owned Ocean View Cemetery in Warrenton.

The city would also use tourism dollars to cover half the cost of restroom maintenance at Tapiola Park and Evergreen Park.

In a potential partnership with the Astoria Downtown Historic District Association, the city would shift $22,000 in tourism money to the association to pay for downtown parking enforcement. The Astoria

Police Department now has the enforcement responsibility, but the position has been vacant.

The downtown association could use the position for both parking enforcement and information sharing. The revenue from parking violations would still go to the city.

"They're the ones that care the most about this," Police Chief Brad Johnston said.

Portable — or permanent — toilets?

The proposed budget would continue to devote tourism money to portable toilets at 16th Street and Marine Drive and at Ninth and Astor streets, which were installed after complaints from downtown merchants about the homeless but are meant for everyone.

But Estes has not recommended an upgrade to permanent — and more expensive — toilet kiosks used in cities such as Portland. He said the upgrades were not high on the Parks and Recreation Department's priority list.

Mayor Arline LaMear, who serves on the budget committee along with the City Council and five appointed residents, believes there is a need for better restrooms near the Riverwalk.

"I think this city spends more time taking care of their dogs than they do people on the Riverwalk. I mean, they at least have a bag," the mayor said of the dog waste bag dispensers on the trail. "I really think we need a real bathroom on the Riverwalk."
