

PARTING SHOTS FROM JOSHUA BESSEX

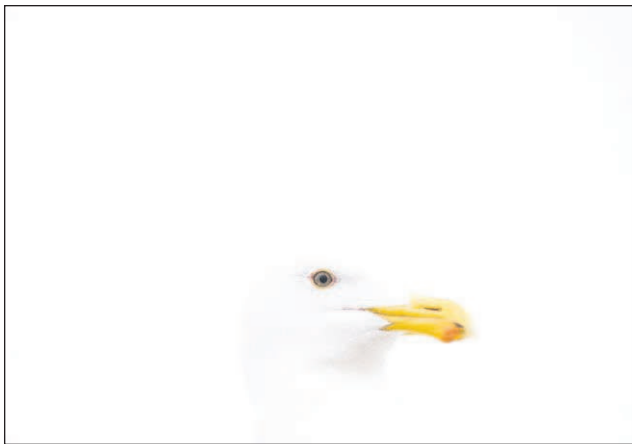

Here's a collection of weekly snapshots taken by departing photographer Joshua Bessex during his time here on the North Coast

Maxx Rauh, 17, jumps over a fence on his bike at the Tapiola Skate Park.

JL Gillikin and Heather Hryciw perform a tango outside of The Festival of the Dark Arts at Fort George Brewery.

A seagull looks out over the Columbia River from the East End Mooring Basin in March.

Chandler Emken, 17, of Astoria, catches air at the Tapiola skate park in July.

A pelican flaps its wings outside of Borenstein Seafoods as crews unload a fishing vessel.

People walk along the beach near the Peter Iredale shipwreck at sunset.

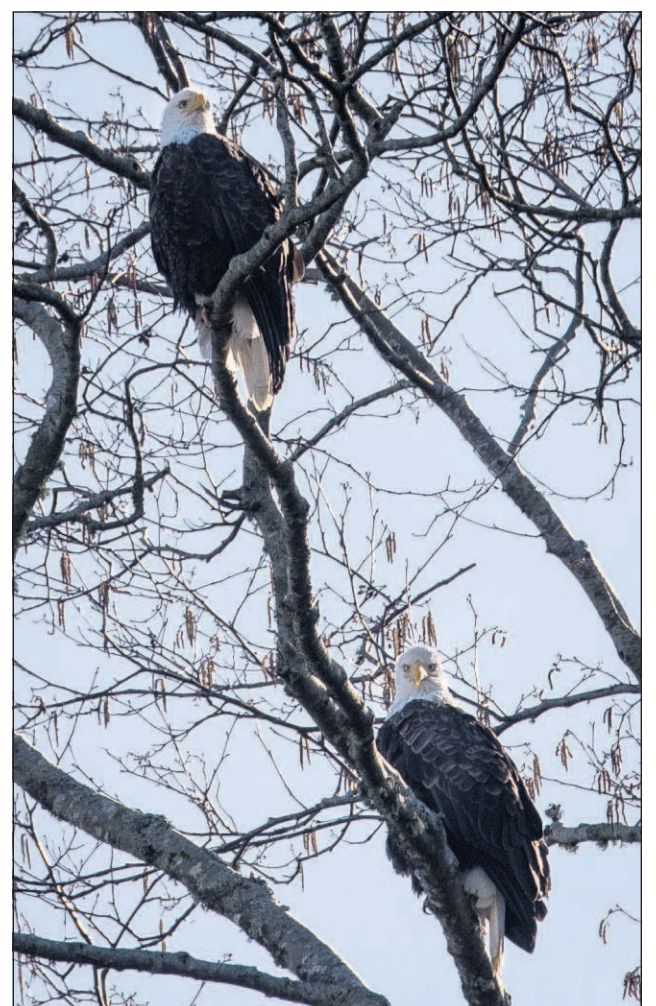

A juvenile bald eagle flies near Pier 1.

The Connor Foss rides through the choppy waters of the Columbia River.

Midnight on the Wallooskee River.

A pair of bald eagles sit in a tree near Bond Street in March.

coast weekend

has been redesigned and refreshed

"Visual storytelling is everything these days. It encourages a deeper level of engagement. It's our hope that the new visual elements, photos, bright colors and chronological nature of the CW calendar are helpful to you."

Rebecca Sedlak, Coast Weekend editor

Coast Weekend is published every Thursday in The Daily Astorian
To subscribe call 503-325-3211 or go to: dailyastorian.com/subscribe

The collage features several pages from the Coast Weekend magazine. Visible headlines include:

- SEE+DO (April 23)
- COAST WEEKEND CALENDAR (Saturday, April 30)
- COASTAL LIFE (Sunday, May 1)
- ERNE AIKEN FIELD AND THE LEGEND OF TOMMY KARAKOLAS
- MOUTH OF THE COLUMBIA (Vegetarian sandwiches stand out at new deli)
- WATCH BASEBALL YOURSELF
- THE VIEW FROM THE STANDS
- THE LEGEND OF TOMMY KARAKOLAS

 The pages are filled with colorful photos, text columns, and various graphics, showcasing the magazine's focus on local events, sports, and community news.