THE DAILY ASTORIAN // QUESTION OF THE WEEK

'Mother's Day is coming up on Sunday. What's the best advice your mother gave you?'

"I'll use my grandmother instead. If you're going to do it, do it right."

Rebecca Kraft, Warrenton

"My dad was better with that than my mom: Only spend what you earn. Budget, budget, budget."

Cindy Peake, Knappa

"Kill people with kindness."

Karl Hellberg, Warrenton

Too much tech? Learn more about it

The Daily Astorian

Northwest Parenting presents two sessions of "Plugged In: How Over-use of Technology Can Change A Developing Brain — How Much Is Too Much?" on Thursday, featuring psychologist Doreen Dodgen-Magee.

The first session is noon to 1 p.m. for a "Lunch and Learn" hour (bring lunch) at the Guy Boyington Building, 857 Commercial St. The second is from 6 to 8 p.m. in Room 219, Columbia Hall, Clatsop Community College. Refreshments are served from 5:30 to 6 p.m. There is no cost for either event.

Dodgen-Magee has more than 22 years of research and experience in technology and human relations. She will provide insight regarding what types of technology exist, and what's coming down the road. Ideas will be shared on how to enhance family relationships, minimize potential risk and develop genuine and appropriate levels of self-esteem and interpersonal relatedness in children and adults.

Continuing education credits are available through the National Association Social Workers, the Addiction Counselor Certification Board of Oregon and the Oregon Registry.

For information, contact Northwest Parenting at 503-325-8673, ext. 2.

Cullaby Lake cabin destroyed in fire

By KYLE SPURR
The Daily Astorian

An unoccupied cabin on the east end of Cullaby Lake was destroyed in a fire Tuesday evening.

Firefighters responded at about 7 p.m. and discovered the cabin was fully engulfed in flames.

"It must have been burning for quite a while before someone saw it because it was in flames," Warrenton Fire Chief Tim Demers said.

Warrenton Fire brought a small boat to transport firefighters across the lake. Gearhart Fire crews had to cut through trees to access the cabin. Seaside Fire and state forest crews also responded.

The fire was under control at about 10 p.m.

"The issue was gaining access," Gearhart Fire Chief Bill Eddy said. "We had crews go through the property and they had to cut their way in."

Eddy said the fire remains under investigation. Officials are attempting to contact to owner who is living in Cheyenne, Wyoming.

Learn about Kiwanis, Doernbecher hospital

The Daily Astorian

The Astoria Kiwanis Club will host a Doernbecher Children's Hospital Thursday evening on the main campus of Clatsop Community College.

The event, in two segments, explains the partnership between Kiwanis and Doernbecher Children's Hospital in Portland to ensure children have access to advanced cancer treatment and research.

The Kiwanis Doernbecher Children's Cancer Program, an all-volunteer organization, helps to fund the work of young, board-certified physicians in a three-year fellowship program. The first year of the fellowship program provides fellows with experience in the clinical care of children with cancer. The second and third years are focused on research to find additional cures and treatments.

Each year Kiwanis Clubs in Oregon and southwest Washington raise money for the program. Doernbecher Drs. Evan Shreck and Katrina Winsnes, the fellowship program director and a first-year Kiwanis fellow, respectively, will be in attendance to present information on the hospital and fellowship program.

Sessions are free and in Towler Hall Room 310 on the college's main campus, 1651 Lexington Ave.

OBITUARIES

Natalie C. Cellars Warrenton

April 17, 1925 — April 22, 2016

Natalie C. Cellars passed away on April 22, 2016, at the wonderful Clatsop Care Memory Care Community in Warrenton, Oregon.

Natalie was born in 1925 to George and Jessie Cartier. Her first six years were spent at Copper Creek Lodge near Mount Rainier. The family moved to Tacoma when Natalie was old enough to attend school.

Natalie graduated from the University of Oregon with a bachelor of science degree. She met Allen Cellars, a native of Astoria, at the university, and they married in 1948.

They lived in Portland after their marriage, but moved to Astoria in 1951, when Allen began work at the Columbia River Packers Association, later Bumble Bee Seafoods. When Allen was transferred to San Francisco after Castle & Cooke acquired Bumble Bee Seafoods, they purchased a home in Marin County.

Upon Allen's retirement, they returned to the northwest and built a home in Warrenton. After Allen's death in 2008, Natalie lived at home for several years before moving first to Clatsop Retirement Village, and then to Clatsop Care Memory Care Community.

Natalie was a talented artist in watercolors, and studied with Charles Mulvey and Richard Yip. She was an active person throughout her life and enjoyed golf, hiking, backpacking, picnicking, duck hunting and clam digging. Allen and Natalie traveled quite a bit, spending many weeks cruising in the San Juan Islands with friends on chartered boats, as well as on vacations in China, Europe, South America, Belize and at Club Med resorts.

Natalie was a Delta Gamma, and was a president of the sorority, and a member of PEO Chapter DL, the Astoria Golf and County Club and Grace Episcopal Church.

She is survived by her daughters, Allison Cellars of Astoria and Connie Halperin of Portland; grandson Rian Halperin of Brooklyn, New York; granddaughter, Devon Halperin of Portland; and also Allison's stepson, William Campbell.

Natalie was well loved by many friends and by her family, and will be very much missed. There will be a memorial service at 11 a.m. on May 11, 2016, at Grace Episcopal Church in Astoria.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to Grace Episcopal Church or the Columbia River Maritime Museum.

Caldwell's Luce-Layton Mortuary in Astoria is in charge of the arrangements. An online guest book may be signed at www.caldwells-mortuary.com
