'Bart to the Future'

id Donald Trump's emergence as a presidential contender surprise you? Did it seem sudden to you? Well, we just weren't paying attention — or attending to the right pundits. To wit, "The Simpsons." Yes, that's right, as in Bart Simpson.

'Bart to the Future" first aired March 19, 2000, just over 16 years ago. Slacker Bart is given a vision of his slacker future hanging around the White House, to which his overachieving sister, Lisa, has just been elected. President Lisa walks in to her first Cabinet meeting and begins by saying, "As you know, we've inherited quite a budget crunch from President Trump."

How's that for prognostication? I guess it takes a wicked sense of humor to anticipate this election season.

A man who cares

will be voting for my husband, ■ David Goldthorpe, for Circuit Court judge in Clatsop County.

I first met David when we were 12 years old. Even then, David stood out as a kind, hard working and thoughtful friend. Our friendship grew over time, and we were married after I graduated from college.

As the years have passed, I have watched as those simple traits I noticed years ago have helped David develop into a compassionate and hard working lawyer. I visited Dave many times late in the evening at his desk in Willamette's law school library as he studied for finals. I have watched him read stories to our children at night, and then pull out cases to review long after they were tucked into bed. I see the worry and pressure he takes onto himself to make sure he is prepared to present a victim's case in court.

For the past month, I have watched as Dave has worked from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., come home to eat dinner with our family, leave to knock on doors in our community, and return home in time to kiss our kids goodnight. I respect and admire my husband's work ethic and

I graduated in elementary education and taught school for a living. My husband and I have very different educational backgrounds. I cannot quote case law, but I can tell you the type of person I would want as a judge if I ever found myself in court. I would want a judge who knew the law, and a judge who had respect for each person in the courtroom.

David's work history and character have prepared him to be just such a judge. Dave is honest, fair and knowledgeable. As a judge, Dave will not be influenced by how much you spent on your lawyer, your last name or what part of town you are from. He will use the law to provide a fair hearing for each person in his

David has experience and integrity, and I encourage you to join me in voting for him as our next Circuit Court judge.

Set record straight

Over the last year, I have attended every Gearhart City Council and Planning Committee meeting dealing with vacation home regulations. I think it is now time to correct conclusions presented by some residents, and exaggerated scenarios presented by a member of the Planning Commission in public, and in these pages.

According to the 2010 census, Gearhart had 1,450 housing units but only 649 households. The remaining 801 housing units included 723 for vacation use. The balance was vacant as either for sale or rent. Only about one-third of the housing units in Gearhart are owner-occupied primary residences. Fifty percent are seasonal and vacation homes. There is a large demand for seasonal and vacation housing in Gearhart, which further demonstrates that this is the dominant land use in Gearhart.

At the March 15 Planning Commission, Commissioner Terry Graff posited that with 100 percent occupancy of all the vacation rental homes in Gearhart, the population would swell to over 53,000 with over 17,000 cars. In his March 31 column "Gearhart City Council has underestimated anger over rentals" (The Daily Astorian), he reduced that to number to 751 guests using 85 vacation homes. Inflammatory unfounded numbers are just that — made up, speculative and always changing.

Judd Todd's recent letter, "No more short-term rentals" (Seaside Signal, April 29) referenced "small investors, who realized they could buy single family homes and capitalize on their investments by renting them out regularly." He also referred to the "onslaught of commercial use in residential neighborhoods." This is total hyperbole and unfounded speculation.

We purchased our home in 2005. At the time it was a long-term rental in an extreme state of disrepair. It took a substantial investment of time and money to return the home to a livable condition. I can proudly submit that the major landscape renovations beautified our area on North Marion as evidenced by the many favorable comments we received. This investment helped Gearhart, it did not hinder it.

There is a grave misconception that vacation-home owners are rich Portlanders who have no regard for the city or their neighbors, and only care about making money. Nothing could be further from the truth. We knew our purchase would require a lifestyle change, which we were willing to accept.

We have never made a profit rentmit audited P&L statements showing that what local government is about? and the rest of the country. Our house-losses in excess of $15,000 per year (and some years more). Our intent was not to create a "commercial business." It was to buy a home for our family to enjoy for a lifetime. Renting our home for only 95 days a year relieves a bit of the financial sting. It is a home, not a commercial commodity to be discarded, but to be treated with care. And that is what we have done to the betterment of the city of Gearhart.

Worthy of the vote

arely do I publicly endorse a can-Adidate running for any office, but Dawn McIntosh is worthy of my vote.

I have been working with the most vulnerable homeless population in Clatsop County for over 14 years, and I know that one of the best ways to serve this population is to understand the obstacles people face to re-enter

With the explosion of homelessness in the last 12 years, and the complexities that come with it, I have watched our court system adopt drug court, treatment court and other important programs to find comprehensive and understanding ways to address complicated issues. I am a huge supporter of these programs, as I have personally observed them change lives for the better.

Over the years, I have sat in the courtrooms of Judge Nelson, Matyas and Brownhill, and observed their dedication to assisting people in alternative ways, other than jail, to deal with legal issues and give everyone a fair shake. They work hard at using their knowledge to give everyone a chance to change their situation and use jail as a consequence when necessary.

These programs are important to our legal system, and to properly run any of these programs takes understanding of our community and experience. As I look at the options to fill the position I have to ask myself who I think is qualified, not just at the bench, but who understand our

I have known Dawn McIntosh both personally and professionally for many years. Dawn has always worked hard to help and understand our vulnerable population. In the last 14 years she is the only candidate I have seen gaining that experience in Clatsop County. The position of Clatsop County Circuit Court judge is best served by a person with experience, and in my eyes Dawn McIntosh has the best experience by far. I urge you to give her your vote.

Cares for county

nce again, after attending an Jinformal meet and greet candidate event, I have walked away being ing our home, quite the contrary. I more aware, more comfortable and would be happy to privately sub-more involved in our community. Isn't continues to lag behind our neighbors

Community involvement, and our voices being heard?

Kathleen Sullivan introduced herself as a newbie running for a position in local government. She lives and works in Clatsop County, and is not lacking in community awareness. Her strengths cannot be denied, as well as her commitment to forestry practices that are sustainable, affordable housing needs and the availability of mental health services.

Running unopposed for Clatsop County Commission District 4, she still needs your written votes. Please fill in and vote on your ballot. Kathleen cares about where we live and the quality of life in our community today and tomorrow. She is exactly what our local government needs.

Thanks for the help

I have seen him and/or his name, in headlines in sports sections, financial sections and entertainment sections, besides news sections and op-ed pages in The Daily Astorian, The Oregonian, The Wall Street Journal, USA Today, and The New York Times every single day since his announced seeking of the Republican nomination. One liberal columnist even began his column with: "Today's column will make no mention of Donald Trump..." Uh-oh,

He says he hates the press, and the press says it hates him, but they cannot help themselves, I suppose, and give him all the publicity for which he yearns, and without which, he must surely have realized, his chances of being nominated for candidacy were

So, for the members of the press who have worked so assiduously, though perhaps unintentionally, secure Mr. Trump's nomination:

Alley for governor

s a business person, I know the Aimportance of investment in the future, but with every investment there must be a worthwhile return.

For the past 30 years, one political party in Oregon has called the shots. In the last decade alone, they've passed 5,000 bills, increased spending by 63 percent and spent $400,000 per classroom on K-12 education.

holds make almost $2,500 less than their counterparts around the country, and over $10,000 less than households in California and Washington. Our unemployment rate is higher than the national rate, and despite the massive spending on education, our high school graduation rates are among the lowest in the country.

It doesn't take an experienced executive to see that something is wrong, but it might take one to fix it. That is why I am supporting Oregon entrepreneur Allen Alley for governor. For the last 30 years, Allen Alley has been creating businesses, careers, and opportunities around the globe. Allen has the skills, business acumen, and tenacity to turn our state around.

With an idea and $10,000 Allen Alley created a billion dollar company; with $500 million, Salem created a broken website and a bridge to nowhere. We can do better Oregon, and with Allen Alley, we will.

Council listened

Many thanks to the Astoria City Council and staff for the recent safety improvements to the traffic flow at the Eighth Street and Irving Avenue intersection. I believe there will be fewer close calls due to the new stop sign and explanatory signs. The red flags help, also.

It is gratifying to know that when citizens express their concerns, the council listens to them.

Mindfulness

ately there has been a lot writ-Laten about the subject of mindfulness. I guess it means to be alert and present to all that is going on around us.

Our creator blessed us with five senses: sight, hearing, taste, smell and touch. It seems so easy when we're not practicing mindfulness to get bored. Often our focus is our ourselves and our ailments or problems. I've found out that if I get my mind off myself and become mindful of all the joy and wonder my five senses provide, my spirits are

On my "Morning Trail of Surprises," I often see a regal eagle soaring. I hear a woodpecker pecking on a tree, birds singing a melodious tune. I feel the touch of a gentle breeze on my cheek coming off our mighty Columbia River, the fragrance of cottonwoods blooming from way upriver. When I reach home, the taste of red maple syrup on my pancakes for breakfast.

Missing the blessings of your five senses? Why not treat yourself to their blessings, and activate them with a renewed mindfulness.
