

Gulls' golf season comes to a close

The Daily Astorian

HILLSBORO — The Seaside boys golf team picked a bad day to shoot their worst score since early March.

In Tuesday's final round of the Special District 1 Regional at the Meriwether Golf Club in Hillsboro, the Gulls struggled while Scappoose and Valley Catholic shot their season best scores to overtake Seaside in the final team standings.

Scappoose finished with a two-day total 691 to win the team title, jumping over Crook County, second with a 693.

Valley Catholic finished third at 705, just three strokes ahead of Seaside (708) — all of which leaves the two-time defending state champion Gulls out of the state tournament for the first time since 2007.

"We managed to snatch defeat from the jaws of victory today," said Seaside coach Jim Poetsch. "We were talking about what we needed to do to win this tournament, and six hours later our season was over.

"I've got to hand it to Scappoose and Valley Catholic," he said. "They went out and put up good numbers, and we were unable to hold on to the lead we had after the first day."

Still, Poetsch said of Seaside's Cinderella season, "After losing four seniors from last season, we were undefeated against 4A teams this season. Today we found out the slipper didn't fit. I feel bad for the seniors with Aaron (Richardson) not able to compete for a third team title and Josef (Barbic) and Berkley (Posalski) to not experience a state tournament.

"On the bright side, we have an all-regional player returning, we were able to get some varsity experience for four other players this season, and we have a bunch of freshmen that have really improved their games this year. If the returning players get out and work on their games this summer, we hope to be competitive again next season."

Help 'Stamp Out Hunger' Saturday

The Daily Astorian

Join the Clatsop Community Action Regional Food Bank Network and letter carriers on Saturday to Stamp Out Hunger, one of the largest single-day food drives in the country. All donated food collected in Clatsop County stays in Clatsop County, in the community where it was collected.

Anyone can take part. Simply collect nonperishable food items and leave them in a bag near the mailbox on Saturday. A letter carrier or volunteer will pick up the donation and ensure it gets to a local food pantry. The goal this year is to raise 12,000 pounds in Clatsop County; and 1.3 million pounds throughout Oregon and Clark County, Washington. Since 2008, the collaborative efforts of the CCA network and the mail carriers have collected 99,659 pounds of food to fight hunger in Clatsop County.

The most wanted foods include: shelf-stable milk; high protein food, such as canned meats and canned or dried beans; nutrient rich foods, such as canned fruits and vegetables (preferably with reduced sugar/sodium); whole-grain items such as brown rice, whole grain cereal and whole wheat pasta; soups, chilies and stews (preferably with reduced sodium/fat); 100 percent fruit or vegetable juice (canned, plastic or boxed); and unsaturated cooking oils.

Unacceptable items include rusty or unlabeled cans, glass containers, perishable items, homemade items, noncommercial packaged items, alcoholic beverages, mixes or soda, and open or used items.

Donations not picked up by letter carriers can be dropped off at any post office by May 18.

Astoria Ford calls for peanut butter for kids

The Daily Astorian

Astoria Ford, in conjunction with the Ford Focus on Hunger, is joining other Ford dealers throughout the Northwest to collect jars of peanut butter supporting the summer demand for kid-friendly foods at Clatsop Community Action Regional Food Bank.

The peanut butter drive, which runs from Saturday through May 21, is in response to the increased demand for this protein staple during the summer months, when many children lose access to school nutrition programs. It is estimated that nearly 24 percent of children are unsure how their next meal will be provided, and when school is out during the summer months, local food banks carry a larger responsibility to feed kids.

To donate, bring jars of peanut butter to Astoria Ford, 710 W. Marine Drive, between the hours of 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. Mariners fans attending the Saturday game may bring their peanut butter donations to Safeco Field, and Portland Timbers fans can bring peanut butter to the Sunday match at Providence Park.

Last year's drive collected nearly 30,000 pounds of peanut butter, feeding kids throughout the summer. Those unable to donate in person can also give online at www.fordfeedskids.org.

Understanding pain class offered Friday

The Daily Astorian

SEASIDE — A pain education class, "Understanding Pain: With Knowledge Comes Power," is 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. Friday at Providence Seaside Hospital, Education Center A, 725 S. Wahanna Road.

When people understand how pain really works, their pain decreases. This class is designed to help understand how pain works in both the body and brain. Participants will learn about what pain really is, and how much a person's own actions and thoughts can improve pain.

There is no charge for the class, but reservations are required by calling the Resource Line at 800-562-8964 or by registering online at www.providence.org/classes
