Country, folk artist comes to Long Beach

Dan Weber started his award-winning music career at 40

LONG BEACH, Wash. — Country/folk singer-songwriter Dan Weber will perform at 7 p.m. Saturday, May 14 at the Peninsula Arts Center.

An ex-park ranger, Weber follows the tradition of songwriting legends by entertaining audiences with energetic performances and telling hilarious, true stories from the many roads he's traveled.

Described as "the classic mid-life overnight sensation," Weber began performing later in life at age 40. Songs from his debut CD "Ash and Bone" received accolades from American Songwriter Magazine and the Great American Songwriting Contest; the U.K.'s Maverick Magazine said: "4 Stars: Has you hanging on to every word. That's the touch of a true master craftsman songwriter, quite indispensable."

A gifted storyteller and performer, Weber won an award at the 2015 Walnut Valley Festival NewSong contest in Kansas for his tribute to Woody Guthrie on his album "Oh Woody," which rose to No. 2 on the folk charts.

He also won third place in the prestigious

2013 Woody Guthrie Songwriting Competition and the silver award in the Mid-Atlantic Song Contest. He has been a three-time finalist in the Kerrville New Folk competition along with several other national and regional honors.

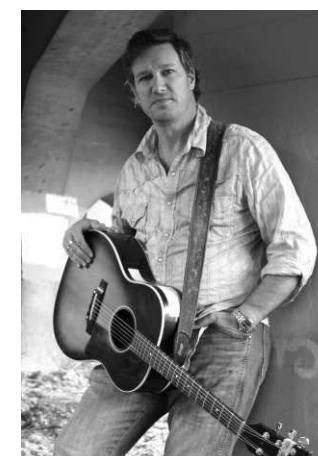

After the success of 2015's release of "What I'm Lookin' For," a 14-song CD of classic folk and Americana that climbed to No. 6 on the charts, Weber is currently working on his first live recording and new material for an upcoming CD.

The Peninsula Arts Center is located at 504 Pacific Ave. N. Admission is $12 at the door or online through Brown Paper Tickets; or call Bill at 360-901-0962.

Wine, beer, and other refreshments will be available for purchase.

Concerts benefit the Long Beach Peninsula Acoustic Music Association, a 501(c)3 nonprofit charitable organization.
