Autio, Larsen are top scholars at Clatsop Community College

The Daily Astorian

Astorians Alex Autio and Georges Oates Larsen are Clatsop Community College's Outstanding Student Scholars for this year.

Faculty and staff nominate students who they believe are most outstanding in terms of excellence in the classroom, general intellectual curiosity, service to the college and their community, and the ability to share their talents with others.

The two finalists were were given a trip to Salem for a luncheon with student scholars selected by other Oregon community colleges and their presidents Tuesday, when they were presented to the state House and the Senate. The governor met with each scholar individually, and presented them with a plaque noting their academic accomplishments. They also received a $1,000 Oregon transfer scholarship.

Autio is a second year student at Clatsop, and plans to transfer to Oregon State University to study business administration. He is a member of the honors program, and is an active member of the college's literary community as part of the Rain Magazine staff and the college's poetry club. He is a Young Life youth leader and volunteers at his local church.

Autio has also been selected as a 2016 Coca-Cola Community College Academic Team Gold Scholar. Each recipient receives a $1,500 scholarship and a special medallion.

Larsen is a home-schooled college student with a passion for theoretical mathematics. As a child, learning formulas and facts wasn't enough for him; he needed an understanding of where they came from and how they worked. "I aim to obtain a Ph.D. in mathematics, and hope to go into teaching and theoretical mathematical research," Larsen said.

Liz Hylton, one of Clatsop college's mathematics instructors, coordinates the Outstanding Student Scholar Community College Associaselection process, which is tion. For information, contact
