

Register now for summer art camp

CANNON BEACH — Registration is open for the 14th annual Summer Art Camp, a program of the Cannon Beach Arts Association. New topics for this year's camp include Stencils and Spray Paint, Introduction to Printmaking, Coloring Haystack Rock's Creatures, Comic Book Drawing, Cupcake Decorating and Soft Storyteller Creatures.

The camp offers instruction to ages 3 through adult and is held at the Cannon Beach Community Church the week of July 11 to 15. Morning session classes are 10 a.m. to noon, with afternoon classes from 1 to 4 p.m. A supervised noon lunch hour is an option for students ages 5 to 14.

Children ages 3 to 5 can attend Creative Kid Explorers, a morning class led by early childhood educator Hannah Nebeker, who emphasizes instruction in shapes, colors and textures while incorporating music and movement. Seaside artist Josh Fry will lead morning and afternoon workshops for ages 10 and older, using stencils and spray paint to create original work. Lisa Kerr returns with her ever-popular Jewelry Design class for ages 9 to adult. Students use lettering tools to inscribe favorite words into copper metal charms.

In the afternoon, ages 8 to adult can learn to use a printing press in Introduction to Printmaking with Sarah Lippold. Barbara Temple Ayres will teach Sketch Book Making for ages 9 to adult; students make their own books using traditional techniques and then fill the pages with ink and watercolor sketches.

Susan Simon will teach encaustic techniques in Beautiful Surfaces. Encaustic art involves melting wax over dry pigments. Ages 13 and older will enjoy using a heat gun or blowtorch.

Dorota Haber-Lehigh will share copies of her new multilingual coloring book "Coloring Haystack Rock's Creatures" in another class.

Haber-Lehigh will teach ages 13 and older how to mix, blend and layer colors to create 3-D effects.

The camp also offers three-day workshops beginning July 13. In the mornings, students ages 11 to adult can learn the art of Comic Book Drawing with Brooke Eckelberry.

An art teacher in Longview,

Washington, Eckelberry will teach students to create short comic strips using their inner super hero for inspiration. In the afternoons, art therapist Meagan Sokol will guide children ages 6 to 10 to develop a story to go with a "soft creature" or stuffed-animal sculpture. Students will use sculpey clay, tea-dyed paper and found materials to decorate their soft creature and then make a mini-book for their story using words and pictures. Last but not least, cupcake-maker Suzy Roehr will teach Cupcake Decorating to ages 9 to adult. Students will bake cupcakes, make frosting and try a variety of decorating styles.
