

State educator to visit Astoria

The Daily Astorian

Salam Noor, deputy superintendent of public instruction under Gov. Kate Brown, will be in Astoria June 2 for a community education forum.

The forum, titled "Reimagining Education in Oregon," will have local and state officials discussing topics such as the federal Every Student Succeeds Act, which recently replaced the No Child Left Behind Act and allows Oregon to create a state plan with increased flexibility in assessment, accountability, school improvement and educator effectiveness.

"I want to hear from Oregonians across the state about what they want for our schools," Noor said in a release. "A new federal law provides us with an opportunity to reimagine education in Oregon, and the best way to accomplish that is with community input and involvement."

Noor will be introduced by Superintendent Craig Hoppes from the Astoria School District.

Jenni Knaus, a spokeswoman for the state Department of Education, said the bulk of the forum will be state officials listening to community members and gathering feedback as they create a state plan. She said the forum will largely be driven by three questions:

- Which school characteristics are most important?
- How should the state measure student success?
- How does the state ensure all students can succeed?

The forum is at 6 p.m. in the Barbey Maritime Center.

Militant who led standoff gets new lawyer

The Daily Astorian

Ammon Bundy, the militant who led the armed occupation of the Malheur National Wildlife Refuge in Harney County this year, has a new attorney.

Morgan Philpot, a former Utah state representative and state Republican Party vice chairman, was named as new counsel in a federal court filing Wednesday. He replaces Mike Arnold and Lissa Casey, Eugene attorneys who made high-profile public appeals on Bundy's behalf.

Clatsop County District Attorney Josh Marquis filed an ethics complaint against Arnold and Casey with the Oregon State Bar, claiming their public statements were intended to influence potential jurors. The state bar dismissed the complaint, but Marquis has appealed to the state bar's general counsel.

Bundy and others are facing federal conspiracy charges after the 41-day standoff with the federal government.

Stolen puppy found in Warrenton

By KYLE SPURR
The Daily Astorian

WARRENTON — The 14-month old Shih Tzu puppy named "Juki," who was stolen from a vehicle in the Fred Meyer parking lot Monday, was found Wednesday afternoon.

A passer-by saw the puppy walking in the road on Marlin Avenue near the Encore Dance Studio. The passer-by and a couple of other people thought the dog might be Juki and walked it down to the Bayshore Animal Hospital. A veterinarian scanned a chip in the puppy with the owner's information to confirm it was Juki.

Juki was then reunited with her owner and is now home.

Warrenton Police Chief Mathew Workman said the department is still investigating the case, and will review surveillance video in the surrounding area.

Juki was stolen from the parking lot between 10 a.m.

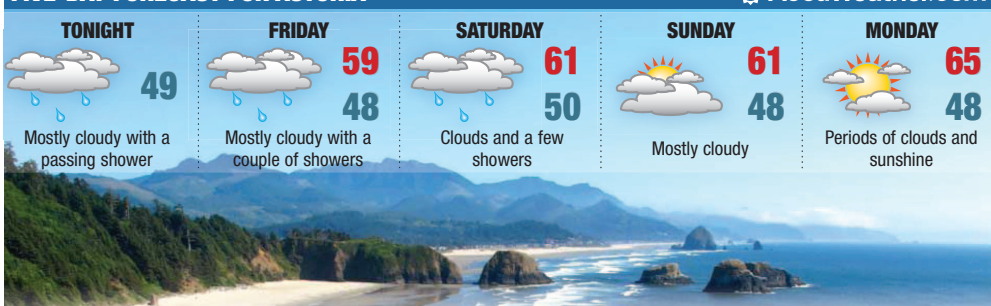

and 10:30 a.m. Monday.

The dog's owner left the vehicle's windows cracked and it appears that is how the suspect gained entry. Workman said there is no way the dog was able to squeeze out of the vehicle on its own.

The owner was inside the store for 10 to 15 minutes.

If anyone has information about the Juki's whereabouts between Monday and Wednesday, they are asked to contact Warrenton Police at (503) 861-2235.

OBITUARIES

Sumner William (Bill) Ostrom

Seaside
Feb. 4, 1919 — April 12, 2016

Bill was born on Feb. 4, 1919, to Master Sgt. Sumner and Lola Ostrom at Fort Columbia, Washington. Master Sgt. Ostrom was in charge of Search Lights at the mouth of the Columbia River.

After the war, the family moved to Milwaukie, Oregon, where Bill graduated from Milwaukie High School in 1936. He then attended Oregon State College, married his high school sweetheart and joined the Army Air Corps.

He always loved adventure, the Oregon Coast, fishing, clamming, bowling, boating, RVing, and Jinx (Norma), to whom he was married for 68 years until her death in 2010.

Bill managed the Lower Columbia Bowl in Astoria, Oregon, before starting the Trophy Case in Warrenton, Oregon.

After retiring, Bill and Jinx moved to Florence, Oregon, where they enjoyed life and many friends. Their second retirement found them again in Warrenton, and then to Seaside, Oregon, and Neawanna By The Sea, where Bill remained until his death.

Bill was a giver. If there was a need, he wrote a check. His many friends remember a man who always gave a smile, a kind word and had a humorous story to tell. He loved a good discussion.

Bill is survived by his two daughters, Nancy Hopp of Gearhart, Oregon, and Patricia Beyer of Milwaukie, Oregon; and six grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

A family memorial celebration will be held July 4, 2016, at the mouth of the Columbia River.

Ellen Vivian Russell

Sweet Home
Nov. 24, 1928 — May 20, 2016

Ellen Russell, 87, of Sweet Home, passed away Friday, May 20. She was born in Svensen, Oregon, to Kalle Edward and Saima Maria (Maki) Wahlbom.

She lived in Svensen through her grade school and high school years. After attending business college in Portland, Ellen worked as a secretary for the Seattle Planning Commission. Her boss wanted her to return after she got married but she said, "No, I want to stay home and raise a family." Family was everything to Ellen.

After living in Seattle for four years, Ellen, her husband, three boys, and a girl moved to Yakima, Washington, where they welcomed another baby girl. When Earl retired, they traveled in a motor home for three years before finding Sweet Home and their dream house in Holley. After her first husband passed, Ellen took the trip of a lifetime to Finland with her sister, Judy.

She enjoyed dancing and watching others dance. In fact, she met her sweetheart, Jim Russell, at a Squarenaders dance. After Jim and Ellen married, they celebrated month-iversaries. They enjoyed traveling, and took cruises to Hawaii and Mexico.

Ellen's favorite pastimes were sitting on the porch, enjoying the view, and walking. She appreciated flowers and birds, but not the Robber Baron squirrel who tried to steal their food. Ellen often played dominoes, and whenever she won, she would say "Woohoo!" And she made great pumpkin pies!

She is survived by her husband, James Russell, of Sweet Home, Oregon; daughters Maria Kaye Sommers of Port Orchard, Washington, and Cindy Sue Travis of Portland, Oregon; sons Gary Alan Travis of Walla Walla, Washington, Ronald Keith Travis of Yakima, Washington, and Brian Lee Travis of Beaver-creek, Ohio; sister Judy Smith of Forest Grove, Oregon; 10 grandchildren; and 13 great-grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her first husband, Earl Travis; four brothers; and two sisters.

Viewing will be from 9 to 11 a.m. Wednesday, June 1, at Sweet Home Funeral Chapel, with a funeral service at 1 p.m. at Holley Christian Church. Burial will be at Gilliland Cemetery. Memorial contributions may be made to the American Cancer Society.

Sweet Home Funeral Chapel is handling the arrangements (www.sweethomefuneral.com).
