Register for Seaside's Fourth of July Parade

SEASIDE — Registration for Seaside's annual Fourth of July Parade is now open.

Registration may be done online at www.seasidefourthofjuly.org through June 29.

The parade line up will be on Necanicum Drive, and all entrants must be in line and ready to go by 10:45 a.m. Since the July 4 is on a Monday, large crowds are expected, resulting in traffic delays. Arriving early is strongly suggested. Those entrants not at their assigned position will be put at the end of the parade as space allows.

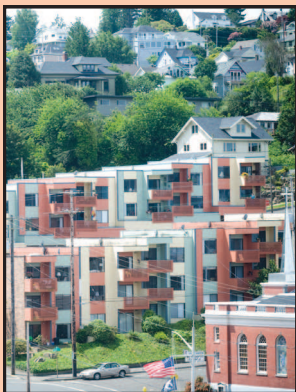

Entries must be able to negotiate turns onto and off Broadway. Floats cannot be over 40 feet in length, towing vehicle and float combined, and no more than 8 feet wide.

If a float or vehicle distributes "goodies," it must be done by someone walking alongside. No goodies or candy can be thrown from the float or vehicle.

The parade starts at 11 a.m. From Necanicum it will turn east on 12th Avenue, then south on Holladay Drive to Broadway, west to Columbia, east to First Avenue back to Necanicum. The parade takes place rain or shine.

Emails with additional parade information and assigned position will be sent out to registered entrants July 1 and 2.

Seaside FIRST SATURDAY ART WALK

June
5 to 7 p.m.

SEASIDE — The Seaside First Saturday Art Walk, celebrating 12 years in 2016, is all about the arts. Visitors walk about, meet artists, sip wine or snag appetizers, view artist demonstrations, listen to an artist talk or enjoy live performances in music. The next art walk is from 5 to 7 p.m. Saturday, June 4 at galleries located in the historic Gilbert District of downtown Seaside.

SunRose Gallery

606 Broadway

SunRose will host an open house featuring new work from pique assiette artist Kathleen Jones, credit card mosaic artist Mari Cardinal Walker, sand dollar mosaic artist Mimi Cernyar Fox, and mixed-media artist Patty Thurlby, who will be in attendance. Local musician Richard Thomasian will provide live jazz music.

Gilbert District Gallery

613 Broadway

The gallery, a co-op shared by artists from Washington and Oregon, is celebrating 12 years and features watercolors, bronze sculptures, giclee prints, Native American jewelry, oil paintings, greeting cards, nature designs and gifts. Artists include Mike Sage, photographer Steve Bash and more. Gallery co-owner Dave Barholet is represented by over 200 galleries across America.

Beach Books

616 Broadway

Beach Books features work from the Green Cab Artist Collective, a working artist group in the Portland area created to encourage and inspire one another, share techniques and info about the business side of art, and share work with the public. The Cabbies are a synergistic alliance of artists, working in diverse mediums. Participating artists for June are Annie Brown, Barbara Martin, Elina Zeberg, Jim Zaleski and Jeffery Hall.

Brown paints on wooden panels. Martin comes from a line of storytellers and is the product of an internationally nomadic life. Zeberg works in a variety of mediums, including acrylics and encaustic painting.

Zaleski combines the traditional art forms of painting and drawing with a computer world to produce art that is loaded with whimsy. Hall will do a sand painting demonstration during art walk. He enjoys using re-purposed materials in his art making process.

Fairweather House and Gallery

Fairweather will hold an opening reception for "Works on Paper," an exhibition that includes established and emerging artists who have created works using paper as their primary medium. The show highlights nationally known artist Patricia Clark-Finley through the month of June with new works on graphite and sennelier ink on yupo. Clark-Finley, a multi-media artist with an interest in narrative and mythology, studied art and business at University of California, Berkeley, and holds a Bachelor of Fine Arts from the San Francisco Art Institute. A native of Washington, she has studio space by the beach in Ocean Park.

"Paper offers a shorter gap between the concept and the execution of an image," Clark-Finley says. "It is possible to take an image through several versions in the same studio session ... Artists historically have created piles of drawings and work on paper for each master work produced. Often the drawings offer more insight into the artistic process than the final work."

Other artists will also show work, including Penelope Culbertson, who creates calligraphy quotes on antique paper; Christine Trexler, who plants and harvests the materials to make paper boxes; Gary Pearlman, who embeds individually cut patterns of handmade paper into original art; and Denise McFadden, who often works on dampened paper and mixes color directly onto her painting.

Seaside nature photographer Neal Maine will introduce his latest natural history journal of images and speak at 6 p.m. Adult beverages, wine tasting, light refreshments and artist lectures will be provided.

T.anjuli Gallery

7 North Holladay Drive

Gallery owner and artist Billy Lutz focuses on what lies beneath appearances in his artwork: Having reemerged into the field of opposites, the irrational landscape, now exposed, is stitched into the physical realm for all to see. From now on, one cannot escape or deny that there is more going on in present tense than just the world spinning and us moving about on its surface.

More original art:

Seaside Coffee House, 3 N. Holladay Drive; and Seaside Antique Mall, 726 Broadway.

Participating restaurants:

Guido and Vito's at 604 Broadway; Three Little Bird's Bakery at 8 N. Holladay Drive; Tora Sushi at 619 Broadway; Nonni's Bistro at 831 Broadway; Yellow Curry, 20 N. Holladay Drive.
