

Authorities try to piece together Orlando killer's movements

Wife might have known about attack

ORLANDO, Fla. — Omar Mateen drove around the Orlando area the night before the nightclub massacre, visiting several places, the mayor said Wednesday as investigators tried to piece together the killer's movements and zeroed in on how much his wife may have known about the plot.

An official who was briefed on the case but insisted on anonymity to discuss a continuing investigation said authorities believe the wife, Noor Salman, knew ahead of time about the plans for the attack that left 49 victims dead, but they are reluctant to charge her on that basis alone.

Investigators have spoken extensively with her and are working to establish whether she recently accompanied Mateen to the Pulse club, said a second official who was not authorized to discuss the case publicly. The official said investigators have not ruled out charging others, including Salman.

The FBI has recovered Mateen's phone and will use location data to verify whether he previously visited the club, the official said. Orlando is nearly a two-hour drive from Mateen's home in Fort Pierce, Florida.

Orlando Mayor Buddy Dyer said Mateen drove around on Saturday night before he opened fire at the gay nightclub about 2 a.m. Sunday in an attack that ended with the 29-year-old American-born Muslim being killed by a police SWAT team.

"What I know concretely is that he was driving around that evening and visited several locations," Dyer said.

When asked exactly where Mateen visited, and whether the locations included theme parks as reported in news accounts, Dyer said, "I think it's been pretty accurately depicted on the news." He gave no further details.

A survivor of the massacre, 20-year-old Patience Carter, shed more light on Mateen's thinking, saying he talked about wanting America to "stop bombing my country" — a possible reference to his father's native Afghanistan.

A number of possible motives and explanations have emerged, with Mateen calling 911 to profess allegiance to the Islamic State group, his ex-wife saying he was mentally ill and his father suggesting he hated gays.

On Tuesday, the picture grew more complex when a U.S. official said the FBI was looking into a flurry of news reports quoting people as saying Mateen frequented the nightclub and reached out to men on gay dating apps. The official was not authorized to discuss the investigation and also spoke on condition of anonymity.

Some psychologists raised the possibility that Mateen was sexually conflicted and lashed out, or else was casing the nightclub and trying to find potential victims online.

Mateen's father, Seddique Mateen, denied his son was gay and said that if he had been in the nightclub before, he may have been "scouting the place."

Mateen's ex-wife, Sitora Yusufiy, said earlier in the week that he was mentally ill and abusive. Amid the latest reports about his club-going, she told CNN: "Well, when we had gotten married, he confessed to me about his past that was recent at that time and that he very much enjoyed going to clubs and the nightlife and there was a lot of pictures of him."

"I feel like it's a side of him or a part of him that he lived but probably didn't want everybody to know about," she said.

Tucker reported from Washington. Associated Press writers Allen G. Breed, Mike Schneider and Tamara Lush in Orlando; Holbrook Mohr in Port St. Lucie, Florida; and Lindsey Tanner in Chicago, contributed to this report.

Astoria, Seaside players team up in all-star games

FOREST GROVE — Clatsop County was well-represented in a pair of basketball all-star games over the weekend in the annual Oregon Athletic Coaches Association all-star series.

The 44th edition of the series — held in Eugene and Forest Grove — showcases the top seniors in the state from the 2015-16 season from the 2A to 6A levels.

Three games were played Friday at Morse Events Center in Eugene, where the Class 5A/6A State All-Stars faced off against the 5A/6A Metro All-Stars, which was followed by West vs. North and South vs. East all-stars from the 2A, 3A and 4A levels.

The North squad featured a coach and two players from Seaside (four Gulls in Saturday's game) and one from Astoria.

SCOREBOARD

SPORTS SCHEDULE

THURSDAY
Junior State Baseball — Clatskanie at Astoria (2), 5 p.m.; Warren-ton at Neah-Kah-Nie, 6 p.m.

SATURDAY
Junior State Baseball — St. Helens at Astoria (2), 1 p.m.; Neah-Kah-Nie at Warrenton (2), Noon

Seaside seniors Austin Eagon and Jaxson Smith, and Fishermen senior Derek Jarrett took part in two games for North, coached by Seaside's Bill Westerholm, Amity's Justin Amaya and Vernonia's David Weller.

Running short of players Saturday, the North added Seaside senior-to-be Jackson Januik and Atikin Babb.

Unfortunately, it didn't help, as the North team went 0-for-2 in the series. The West defeated the North 87-85 in Friday's contest in Eugene, followed by a 105-89 thrashing by the East squad Saturday at Pacific University.

Jarrett scored 15 points in 29 minutes of action in Friday's loss, in which the North rallied from an 85-77 deficit with 53 seconds left, only to come up two points short of a tie on a missed layup at the buzzer. Eagon and Smith were a combined 3-for-20 from the field in Friday's game, but bounced back and teamed up for 26 points Saturday.

Smith had 14 points to go with nine rebounds, five assists and four steals, while Eagon had 12 points and nine boards. Jarrett added 14 points in 14 minutes, and blocked two shots with three steals and two assists.

Other notable players for the North included Ian Donaldson of Scappoose, and Vernonia's Robert Connor, who scored 19 points in Saturday's loss.
