Tour Trestle Bay by kayak

WARRENTON — Join Fort Stevens State Park rangers for a guided kayak tour of Trestle Bay this summer.

Trestle Bay is a area in the park that was formed with the construction of the South Jetty of the Columbia River and is abundant with birds and wildlife.

The tour will pass by the historic train trestles that were used in the jetty's construction and will cover some of the history and nature of the area.

Tours are $10 per person. To make reservations, contact Park Ranger Dane Osis by calling 503-861-3170, ext. 41 or email dane.osis@oregon.gov

Help weed the Skipanon River by canoe

North Coast Land Conservancy seeks volunteers

WARRENTON — The wild, forested upper Skipanon River is lush with towering Sitka spruce, native sedges — and invasive plants, such as purple loosestrife, yellow flag iris and ivy.

North Coast Land Conservancy owns three properties totaling 106 acres along the Skipanon River near Warrenton High School. The properties are impossible to access on foot, so staff and volunteers plan to ride the tide and weed the waterway by boat from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Wednesday, July 27.

NCLC will provide canoes on a space-available basis. Volunteers may also participate with their own canoe or kayak. In either case, contact Stewardship Director Melissa Reich in advance to her know you are coming, to get put-in

Catch a thrill with 'Jaws'

ASTORIA — Relive the terrifying thrill of one of the first summer blockbusters on the big screen. In its next Parks After Dark event, Astoria Parks & Recreation Community Foundation will host an outdoor movie showing of Steven Spielberg's 1975 thriller "Jaws."

In this iconic film, a giant, man-eating great white shark attacks beachgoers in a summer resort town. A police chief, a marine scientist and a grizzled fisherman — played by Roy Scheider, Richard Dreyfuss and Robert Shaw — set out to stop it.

The film will be shown Saturday, July 23 in McClure Park, located at Eighth Street and Grand Avenue.

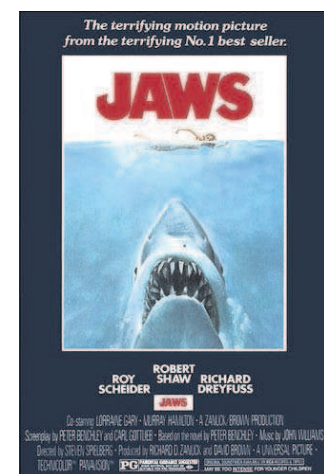

Gather in the park with camp chairs and blankets at 8 p.m. The movie will begin around 9 p.m. All ages are welcome. Entry is $5 per person. Fort George Brewery beer and food by North Coast Food Web will be available for purchase.

The PG movie screening is sponsored by the Astoria Downtown Historic District Association.

All proceeds go to a scholarship fund for local individuals and families for Astoria Parks & Recreation activities.

Parks After Dark will continue with its final showing next month. On Aug. 27, catch the 1986 family science-fiction comedy "Short Circuit." Starring Ally Sheedy, Steve Guttenberg and Fisher Stevens, this film about a robot that comes to
