

Surprisingly, part of our business plan is about changing lives.

NW Natural®
We grew up here.

As your local gas company, we have a responsibility to provide natural gas safely and reliably. But as a member of the community, our responsibilities go far deeper. For thousands of people in need we provide assistance that helps them to have more productive lives. Our philosophy of giving stems from the understanding that when we help the individual, our community is stronger.

For over 150 years we have helped to provide for those in need, taught kids to read, and built homes for families.

We donate to hundreds of local charities, including Oregon Freshwater Trust, Big Brothers/Big Sisters, Gas Assistance Program (GAP), Campfire and Habitat for Humanity. We also encourage our employees to volunteer their time to nonprofit organizations through our Volunteer Sabbatical program.

In times of need, we all have a responsibility to help our neighbors in any way we can. At NW Natural we are committed to community involvement, addressing social challenges and improving the quality of life in the Northwest.
