Studio tours showcase artists in intimate settings

The Daily Astorian

For months now, local artists have been drawing, sculpting and painting their way toward showing at the Astoria Studio Tours.

The free annual event — from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday — is becoming a staple in Astoria. A tour map is available at www.astoriavisualarts.org.

Noel Thomas, an Astoria artist, is one of the artists opening up a studio. Visit him upstairs at 249 14th St., next to Gimre's Shoes.
