

Fabulous Farelanes returning to Rod Run

The Fabulous Farelanes will be rocking the crowd at this year's Rod Run to the End of World, performing a selection of 1950s and 1960s music, as well as some "funky Motown and surf renditions."

The Farelanes first entertained a local Peninsula crowd at a Northwest Garlic Festival, being hired by the Ocean Park Area Chamber of Commerce. "They were so enjoyable, they were hired two or three more times for other events in Ocean Park," Beach Barons board member Phyllis Knight said. "They have also entertained at the Rod Run in years past and are joining us again this year."

To enjoy them in person, come to the Rod Run on Saturday, Sept. 10, between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m.

"Join us on the Beach Barons field for an enjoyable show and view the fabulous cars that will be part of the Rod Run to the End of the World," Knight said.

Rod Run attendees and guests gather in the September sun at Wilson Field to enjoy good company and popular music from the classic car era.

More than a car show, Rod Run is a concert and cultural event.
