

Hospital foundation honors donors at celebration dinner

The Daily Astorian

The Columbia Memorial Hospital Foundation thanked its donors this past week at a dinner that featured the presentation of two new awards established to recognize leadership and philanthropy at the hospital and in the community.

Guests at the event were entertained by a chorus of humor, opera and show tunes by a trio known as The Three Waiters who strolled through the crowd at the Loft in The Red Building where the event was conducted.

Most notably, donors were thanked for their support and investment in the CMH/OHSU Knight Cancer Center, which is being built and is expected to open in the fall of 2017. The collaboration with Oregon Health & Science University will offer patients the latest in cancer treatment, as well as all critical support services including an on-site pharmacy, a laboratory, massage therapy, nutritional and dietary services and educational resources.

The evening was capped off by the presentation of the two new awards. The President's Award, named for CMH's current President and CEO Erik Thorsen, recognized a hospital employee and went to Jeanette Schacher, manager of CMH's Hospice program, which was named a Hospice Honors Recipient in 2014 by Deyta. She also established the Race to the Bar, which this year raised more than $25,000 to benefit hospice patients.

The Terry Award, named in honor of Terry Finklein, who served as the hospital's chief executive officer for more than 20 years, recognized a volunteer leader who has gone above and beyond to advance philanthropy at the hospital and in the community. CMH Board Chair Heather Seppa presented the first Terry Award to Michael Autio.

Autio is the board chair of CMH Foundation and has been actively involved with the foundation and the hospital for more than 22 years. Seppa said, "Mike (Autio) has played a significant role in the success of both the foundation and the hospital. He has spent countless hours volunteering in the community as well."

OBITUARIES

Christine Andrea (Bergersen) Stanley Svensen

July 8, 1939 — Sept. 21, 2016

Tina passed away Wednesday, Sept. 21 in Portland, Oregon, after complications from heart surgery to replace a mitral valve. She was born in Brooklyn, New York, and eventually relocated to Huntington, New York, when she was 15 years old. She graduated from Walt Whitman High School in 1957, and married that same year to John Pigart. They remained married until his death in 2000. They had two children together. Tina had seven grandchildren and many nieces and nephews. In 2003, Tina married Murray Stanley at their home in Svensen.

Tina was so special in many ways. Her first love was flowers, then cooking and lastly, anything to do with art. She was an excellent artist. Most of all, she endeared herself to everyone she met, and was generous to a fault. She dearly loved and cherished her grandchildren and her nieces and nephews.

Tina loved stuffed dolls, especially bears, and when any small child would visit her, she would give them a choice of any doll to keep. Sometimes, after the child would leave, Tina would say, "Darn, I especially liked that bear, it was one of my favorites." Yet, for Tina, the pleasure of giving vastly outweighed material possessions. All who knew her will surely have lasting and fond memories of this wonderful woman.

Gulls ninth among big schools

The Daily Astorian

PORTLAND — In search of the best competition they can find, the Astoria and Seaside cross country teams both took part in the Nike Portland XC meet, held Saturday at the Portland Meadows Race Track.

Seaside took part in the 5,000-meter Division 1 race, and — facing many schools over twice their size — finished ninth out of 22 schools in the team standings.

Gulls' senior Bradley Rzewnicki finished 10th out of 117 runners, covering the course in 16 minutes, 23 seconds.

Teammate Rafi Sibony was 25th in 16:39, and Jackson Januik placed 37th (16:54).

The Astoria boys placed 22nd out of 27 schools in the team standings of the 5,000-meter Division 3 race, highlighted by a fourth-place finish from senior Lucas Caruana, out of 188 runners.

Caruana covered the course in a personal best 16 minutes, 59 seconds.

For the Astoria girls, McKenzie Burnett crossed the line in 21:41 to place 17th out of 128 runners in the 5,000 Division 3 race.

ON THE RECORD

Crash

On Sunday evening, Oregon State Police cited Kevin Jonathan Morse, 27, of Seaside, with driving under the influence of intoxicants, driving while suspended, driving uninsured and performing a dangerous left turn. Morse reportedly caused a three-vehicle crash on U.S. Highway 101 and Sunset Beach Lane in Warrenton. Morse was taking a left turn off Sunset Beach Lane in front of another vehicle, causing a crash. The two vehicles then crashed into a third vehicle. Morse and two occupants in the vehicle he turned in front off were all transported to Columbia Memorial Hospital with minor to moderate injuries, according to police.

DUII

At 9:13 p.m. Sunday, Oregon State Police arrested Paul William Selvy, 65, of Warrenton, for driving under the influence of intoxicants after Selvy reportedly drove his vehicle into a small ditch on U.S. Highway 30 and Knappa Dock Road. Selvy's blood alcohol content was measured at 0.17 percent, according to police.
