

OBITUARIES

Byron Gunther Pinkney

Astoria

July 25, 1943 — Oct. 1, 2016

Byron Gunther Pinkney, a resident of Astoria, passed away on Oct. 1, 2016, in Astoria, Oregon. He was 73.

He was born July 25, 1943, in Portland, to Byron K. and Phyllis M. Pinkney, and raised in Lake Oswego.

Following graduation from Portland State University, Byron managed computer operations at a large company. He left the corporate setting to own his own landscaping company — his creativity in designing landscapes was his joy.

In retirement, he was in the Coast Guard Auxiliary and volunteered at the Columbia River Maritime Museum.

He is survived by his wife of 43 years, Diane

Byron Pinkney

Pinkney of Astoria; daughter Andrea Proett of Eugene; granddaughter Erin Proett of Eugene; sisters Maureen Sexton of Albany and Janelle McLeod of West Linn; wonderful nieces and nephews; and many, many friends.

All are welcome to join in a celebration of Byron's life on Sunday, Oct. 9, 2016, at 2 p.m. at Hughes-Ransom, 576 12th St. in Astoria.

A second celebration is set for Nov. 6, 2016, at 2 p.m. at the Al Kader Shrine Center, 25100 S.W. Parkway Ave, Wilsonville, Oregon.

Donations may be made to the Columbia River Maritime Museum, 1792 Marine Drive, Astoria, OR 97103.

Joyce Jane Wilson

Warrenton

Dec. 6, 1935 — Oct. 2, 2016

Joyce Jane Wilson was born Dec. 6, 1935, in Portland, Oregon, and passed Oct. 2, 2016, in Warrenton, Oregon.

Joyce, our mom, wore many hats. When we were young, she was a stay-at-home mom, at which time she volunteered in our grade school, helping in the library. She was also involved at Oak Grove Bible Church, teaching Sunday school, Vacation Bible School and she was leader of the Pioneer Girls Club. Later, she worked as a substitute cook at the North Clackamas School District, and while in Oak Grove she was active in the Special Olympics program.

After she retired from the school district she worked as a secretary at the Milwaukie Elks Lodge. She then followed her love for boating and volunteered her time to the Sea Scouts, where she earned her license as a 100-ton Merchant Marine captain. During this period she was awarded one of the highest honors in the Boy Scouts of America, the Silver Beaver Award.

Later she joined the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary and the U.S. Power Squadron, eventually serving as flotilla commander and squadron command, where she taught boating safety classes. She was also a Coast Guard Auxiliary crewman and vessel examiner, and had several hundreds of hours of boating patrol duty.

For many years she did a large number of boat safety checks during the Buoy 10 fishing season (her favorite saying was, "Wear your life jacket, we want you to come back.") In 2001, she received the Coast Guard Auxiliariest of the year award for the 13th Coast Guard District.

For a number of years she worked at Camp Rilea as a housekeeper. She was a deacon and usher at Pioneer Presbyterian Church, and assisted with banking at the Warrenton Senior Center.

Mom had a dynamic personality, she loved the outdoors, watching sunsets and astronomy. She was loved by all, and will be greatly missed.

Joyce was married to the late Warner Fred Wilson for 47 years, and they had five children, four grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren. Her children are David Wilson, Richard and Tammy Wilson, Patrick Lee Wilson, Bonnie and George Kozowski and Mary Wilson. Grandchildren are Kristina and Abraham Honma, Danelle Lowrey and Justin Lowrey and the late Jennifer Wilson. Great-grandchildren are Julien, Jackson, Porter and Nolan, Elias and Akio, and Ava.

Joyce also had a very special friend she loved very much, and who loved her just as much, Jack Bradbury. She also loved her sister-in-law Sandy Graham and her brother, the late William (Bill) Graham, and her brother-in-law, Gary Goins and her sister, the late Elsie, very much.

Coastal tourism summit planned

The Daily Astorian

GARIBALDI — The Oregon Coast Visitors Association will hold the inaugural People's Coast Summit, a gathering of tourist-related industries on the North Coast.

The Oct. 18 and Oct. 19 event in Garibaldi is open to private and public tourism industry leaders from the coast to connect with and learn from colleagues. Presenters will cover best practices in social media and marketing, tourism trends and international tourism opportunities.

Summit workshops are geared toward the needs of small- to medium-sized tourism businesses, while keynote speakers offer big-picture perspectives.

Clatsop County Historical Society's McAndrew Burns is slated to present "Authentic Astoria," about the tourism renaissance. For more information, visit eventbrite.com and search "People's Coast Summit" to purchase tickets.

Seaside candidate to hold tsunami awareness rally

The Daily Astorian

SEASIDE — Seaside City Council candidate Tom Horning announced a rally Saturday to "Occupy the Avenue G Bridge!"

Horning, a geologist and environmental consultant, is running against incumbent City Council President Don Johnson.

Johnson is seeking his fifth term. The rally advocates for new earthquake-proof tsunami evacuation bridges for Seaside, according to Horning, "the sooner the better, given recent research into earthquakes and tsunamis."

The event takes place at 10 a.m. at Seaside Avenue G Bridge on the south side of the Necanicum River.

According to Horning, the bridge is a critical tsunami evacuation lifeline that will collapse during a strong quake, preventing timely evacuation of people who live west of the river. The bridge and four others in the city, plus two proposed pedestrian footbridges, need to be replaced or built before the next earthquake strikes, he said.

Horning and other experts predict Seaside will be flooded by tsunami waves to depths of over 30 feet deep in places. "With as many as 20,000 lives at stake, this issue needs to be given high priority and construction of the bridges completed within 20 years," Horning said.

CORRECTION

No contribution — A spokeswoman for Intel Corp. said the company did not make a contribution in support of Measure 97, a proposed corporate sales tax on the November ballot. A 1A story Wednesday reported that Intel Corp. had made a $10,000 contribution to Defend Oregon, a political action committee supporting Measure 97. State campaign-finance records do show a contribution from Intel to Defend Oregon, but the donation was in 2008.
