

CONTACT US
Rebecca Sedlak | Weekend Editor
rsedlak@dailyastorian.com

WEEKEND BREAK

FOLLOW US
facebook.com/
DailyAstorian

The advantage of VINTAGE

Noel Thomas
“Vintage Hardware has moved, and our drawing group descended on the new location because it’s packed with so much to draw,” said local artist Noel Thomas. “I chose the exterior and added the rain reflection for interest.” See more art images of Vintage Hardware online at dailyastorian.com

The Daily Astorian

Draw — a group of local artists — meets every other Thursday morning in various places around the North Coast community just so its members can draw, paint or sketch together.

A favorite spot for the group has been Vintage Hardware. Since the store recently moved to its new location at 1162 Marine Drive, the artists gathered for a new indoor venue.

Collected here are a few of the artists’ works from a recent morning. Featured are: Noel Thomas, Gheri Fouts, Phyllis Taylor and Christi Payne.

Phyllis Taylor
“October Pumpkins”

Gheri Fouts
“Expect the Unexpected”

Christi Payne