

Learn to make a miniature print

CANNON BEACH — Join Creative Coast, a program of Cannon Beach Arts Association, for a lesson in drypoint printmaking. This workshop will be held Saturday, Nov. 19 and is open to all skill levels — so grab your ideas and get ready to get inky.

In this five-hour session, with a lunch break in the middle, students will use plexiglass as an accessible way to become familiar with the drypoint technique.

Experienced and energetic printmaker Jani Hoberg will lead the class though the creation of a one-color miniature drypoint print. Ready-cut mats and frames will be available for students to put the finishing touches on their artwork.

Last but not least, since this print will be miniature in size, students can even enter it into CBAA's 30th annual Miniatures Show. This is a great opportunity to be exhibited in the Cannon Beach Gallery or Creative Coast Project Space.

This printmaking session will take place at Creative Coast Project Space from 11

Do your holiday shopping at pop-up farmers market

ASTORIA — The North Coast Food Web will host a Pop-Up Farmers Market for folks hoping to feature locally grown food in their home cooking this Thanksgiving.

Whether you're looking for something special for your holiday feast or just miss shopping at your neighborhood farmers market, you'll find something scrumptious at the pop-up market.

This indoor market will be yours to peruse from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 22 at the North Coast Food Web building, located at 577 18th St.

Shoppers will find fresh produce, baked goods, organic cranberry products, cheese and meats. North Coast Food Web will provide complimentary snacks and warm, spiced cider for all shoppers.

Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program shoppers can take advantage of a $10 SNAP match funded by North Coast Food Web.
