

Create holiday cards in linocut class

CANNON BEACH — Come to the Creative Coast Project Space for an introduction to linocut printmaking. The workshop will allow students to get into the holiday spirit and create their own cards for Christmas, Hanukkah, Bodhi Day, Mawlid, winter solstice and more.

There are two chances to participate: Friday, Dec. 2 or Saturday, Dec. 3.

Experienced printmaker Susan Walsh will help you design and carve your own linoleum block. Participants will be guided through the process of printing a small edition of one-color cards using a small press. Walsh will also show you how to print by hand, so you can produce more cards at home without a press.

Each class includes all the materials you need. Just register for the class and show up with your ideas.

Both workshops will take place at the Creative Coast Project Space located in Suite 25 on the second floor of Sandpiper Square. The first printmaking session will be from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Find farmers market and winter bazaar in Nehalem

Win a quilt, buy gifts, chow down at local gift fairs

NEHALEM — Like to shop? Like to eat? Like to be a winner? All these desires can be satisfied Saturday, Dec. 3 when Nehalem Bay-area organizations hold holiday and winter markets. These events emphasize locally produced food and gift items, and sales will benefit nonprofit and charitable organizations.

Nehalem Bay United Methodist Church, will hold its 46th annual Christmas Bazaar & Clam Chowder Luncheon, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Dec. 3. The church is located at 10th and A streets in Nehalem. This long-running bazaar includes a silent auction and craft vendors in addition to its traditional components: filled baskets ready for giving, jewelry, pies, a bakery and candy shop, handmade crafts, gifts and a jewelry counter.

All proceeds from the Methodist bazaar go to the church's charitable work, much of which is right in Tillamook County: Healthy Families, Good News Club, Marie Mills and more.

The same day, Manzanita Farmers Market will host a winter market from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the White Clover Grange, located at 36585 Highway 53, about 2 miles east of U.S. Highway 101, landmarked by a humorous cow sculpture.

This market will emphasize locally produced food and gift items, including Lance's Farm Vittles (lamb, chicken and beef), Happy Handmade (organic skin care products), Green Fork Farm (winter vegetables), Miss Blackberries Farm (beeswax candles), Rinehart Clinic & Pharmacy (gift raffle, health information, blood pressure checks), CS Fishery (local fresh fish and seafood), Trish Peake's hand knits, Wild for Lavender (gifts, food, tea, honey), North Coast Soap Company, Roots and Wings Jewelry, Tallwoman Tonics (herbals of all sorts) and White Clover Grange's own local preserved foods.

The grange will offer a hot lunch from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., including reuben sandwiches, vegan chili, cornbread and pie. The grange will also raffle off a Christmas quilt and a leg of lamb from Lance's Farm Vittles. The lunch and quilt raffle will benefit the grange's building maintenance and improvement, including a window restoration projects.
