Commercial crabbing to start in January

The Daily Astorian

Commercial Dungeness crabbing on the central and northern Oregon Coast will start on Jan. 1.

Fishing boats can start setting gear Dec. 29, three days prior to the fishery opening.

State fishery managers had previously opened commercial crabbing from Cape Blanco south to the California border. The new opening affects Cape Blanco north to the mouth of the Columbia River.

The monthlong delay in the seasons allowed additional testing for domoic acid, which is produced by algae in warmer ocean waters and can cause minor to severe illness, and even death. Recent testing showed domoic acid levels on the central coast have decreased below the U.S. Food and Drug Administration's alert levels.

"Along with the state agencies, the Oregon commercial Dungeness crab industry has taken a very proactive and precautionary approach to the opening of this crab season in the interest of public safety and consumer confidence in a high-quality product" Caren Braby, a marine resources program manager for the state Department of Fish and Wildlife, said in a release.

Recreational crabbing in bays and the ocean is already open.

OBITUARIES

Harold Albin Snow

Astoria

March 20, 1941 — Dec. 15, 2016

Harold A. Snow was born in Astoria, Oregon, on March 20, 1941, to Harold H. and Helen (Nordquist) Snow. Hal was raised in Astoria, attending Lewis & Clark Central grade school and Astoria High School.

After a stint in the National Guard, Hal attended the University of Oregon, and subsequently graduated from the University of Oregon School of Law in 1968.

On Sept. 1, 1967, Hal married Jeanyse Reith. He returned to Astoria to practice law with the firm of Macdonald, Dean & McCallister, joined by Jeanyse after she graduated from law school. The law firm was eventually known as Snow & Snow, and Hal and Jeanyse practiced law together until September 2016, when ill health caused Hal to retire.

Hal was particularly pleased to assist seniors in their estate planning. His practice also included business and municipal law. He represented the city of Astoria for many years, and represented the city of Warrenton for 40 years.

Hal was active in the civic life of Astoria and the state of Oregon. He was instrumental in the formation of the Lower Columbia Youth Soccer Association. After a disagreement with the Astoria School Board about use of the school district's fields for recreational soccer, Hal spearheaded the construction of what is now the soccer complex in Warrenton, which fields are among the finest in the state.

Hal was on the founding boards of the Friends of the Astoria Column, Friends of the Liberty Theater, and Astoria High School Scholarships Inc., and he served on these boards for many years. His service on the Oregon Community Foundation Board of Directors was particularly rewarding, as the foundation disburses charitable funds throughout the state of Oregon. More recently, he was a member of the Governor's North Coast Regional Solutions team.

Hal is survived by his wife, and sons Jeremy A. (Sophie) of Portland and Randall W. (Shannon) of Salem; and five grandchildren, Ryker, Kincaid, Harvey, Adelaide and Estelle.

A private family interment has been held. At Hal's specific request, there will be no public funeral or memorial service.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Friends of The Liberty, Friends of Astoria Column, AHS Scholarships Inc., the Oregon Community Foundation, or the charity of one's choice.

Caldwell's Luce-Layton Mortuary in Astoria is in charge of the arrangements. An online guest book may be signed at www.caldwells-mortuary.com
