

Departing Cannon Beach councilors celebrated

Cadwallader, Higgins say goodbye

CANNON BEACH — Melissa Cadwallader and Wendy Higgins were recognized this month for their commitment and accomplishments on the Cannon Beach City Council. Both complete their eight-year term limits on the council at year's end.

In January, newly elected councilors Nancy McCarthy and Brandon Ogilvie will step up to fill the vacant seats.

At the December council work session, Mayor Sam Steidel honored Cadwallader and Higgins as well as former Parks and Community Services Committee Chair Barb Knop and former Emergency Preparedness Committee member Les Wierson for completing their maximum "I want to thank everybody time of service. for stepping up and spending that time, for putting in eight years of commitment,"

Steidel said. "I really appreciate it."

Steidel said he valued Cadwallader's work as the Clatsop County local government representative for the Cape Falcon Marine Reserve. He also praised Higgins for her communication with hotels during the effort to increase room taxes.

Cadwallader and Higgins received pieces from Icefire Glassworks as a departing gift from the city. Councilors, staff and residents enjoyed cake and refreshments after the meeting.

Higgins and Cadwallader, both elected in 2008, helped draft and approve the city's first strategic plan that outlines goals for the next five years.

Both councilors served during the city's acquisition of 805 acres in the Ecola Creek watershed from the Oregon Department of Forestry, following the 2010 voter approval of a $4 million bond measure. The acquisition created 1,040 connected acres of city-owned forest in the Ecola Creek Forest Reserve.

In the past eight years, the City Council has also started the Tourism and Arts Commission and approved room tax increases.

Cadwallader, who served as council president and council liaison for the affordable housing task force, is looking forward to spending time with family in California.

"I feel really positive about the team, my fellow councilors, the staff, our city," Cadwallader said in April. "Being a councilor has been a kick. I have found it a lot of fun."

After many years of living on the North Coast and working as the Ocean Lodge general manager, Higgins has relocated to the Tri-Cities, Washington, area to open another hotel for Escape Lodging company.

"I feel like with the council that we have, we're leaving it better and stronger than we found it," she said in April.

State trooper wounded in shootout near Portland

Associated Press

PORTLAND — Authorities say an Oregon State Police trooper suffered life-threatening injuries when he was shot by a homicide suspect late Christmas night.

Sgt. David Thompson of the Washington County Sheriff's Office says the suspect, 30-year-old James Tylka, was fatally shot in the incident.

According to Thompson, police in suburban Portland found a woman deceased after responding to a call of shots fired. Tylka was later seen driving and a chase ensued.

It ended with an exchange of gunfire about 20 miles south of Portland.

The wounded trooper was taken to a Portland hospital. His name has not been released, but police say he has been with the department for seven years.

Officers from Hillsboro, Sherwood and Tualatin police were involved in the incident. They have been placed on paid administrative leave.

A Long Beach, Washington, man was killed Saturday morning after a collision in icy conditions on U.S. Highway 30 east of Astoria.

Edward C. Carlson, 59, was standing outside his Toyota 4Runner after a minor crash when he was hit by a driver who lost control of his vehicle on the icy highway and struck the Toyota 4Runner, according to the Oregon State Police.

Lorraine K. Sebastian, 62, of Castle Rock, Washington, was also hit by at least one vehicle while standing on the highway. Sebastian was taken to Legacy Emanuel Medical Center for life threatening injuries, according to state police.

A Kelso, Washington, couple received minor injuries in the initial crash.

The crashes occurred about 10 a.m. near milepost 81 about 15 miles east of Astoria.
