OBITUARY POLICY

The Daily Astorian publishes paid obituaries. The obituary can include a small photo and, for veterans, a flag symbol at no charge. The deadline for all obituaries is 9 a.m. the business day prior. Obituaries may be edited for spelling, proper punctuation and style. Death notices and upcoming services will be published at no charge.

OBITUARIES

Harry Acton Miller

Seaside

Sept. 14, 1922 — Dec. 15, 2016

Harry's first seven years were spent in Lewistown, before moving to San Bernardino, California, in 1929. He graduated from Riverside Polytechnic High School in 1941, and then spent six months at Long Beach (California) Junior College before he was drafted and joined the U.S. Navy in 1942.

Throughout World War II he was stationed in Astoria, where he worked in Ships Stores as well as commissioning and decommissioning "flattops" — aircraft carriers. He had requested PT boat duty, but was denied. It was a good thing, because the ship he had requested was sunk three days after it set sail, just outside of San Francisco, and two thirds of the crew were lost. His guardian angel was on his shoulder watching over him.

After the war, he returned to Long Beach Junior College and earned his bachelor's degree in accounting and business administration and married the love of his life, Margaret Lillian Nielsen, Nov. 24, 1950. She preceded him in death in October 2012.

Harry Miller

Harry returned to Astoria and worked for several construction companies before being hired by First National Bank (now U.S. National). Promoted and transferred to the Seaside branch, he relocated in 1955. Again, his guardian angel was watching over him when he was driving home from a meeting in Astoria and a tree fell on the car.

He started at the Post Office in 1961, was promoted to Postmaster in 1972, and retired in 1982.

He moved into his home on Lewis and Clark Way in 1956, where he lived the remainder of his life. His house was an on-going project with adding on and remodeling almost continually. He purchased the next door lot with three studio cabins, using one as his boat house, and combining the remaining two into a one bedroom home for Margaret's mother.

Margaret always said she was going to have a shirt made with the acronym "MHCDA" or "My Harry Can Do Anything."

He played a troll in the Scandinavian Festival along with his nephew, Dan Hess, and they were so good they were invited — all expenses paid — to play trolls in the Minot, North Dakota, Nordic festival. As a troll, he started handing out hugs and kisses to children along the parade route, which evolved into giving hugs and kisses to all the women he met, both young and old. He often joked that he wished he'd had stock in the Hershey Co.!

retiring from the Post Office in 1982, when he took on more challenges than any of us will ever be able to count completely. He was a lifetime member of the Elks, American Legion, North American Fishing Club and North American Hunting Club, to name a very few.

If he wasn't at the Pig 'N Pancake for coffee every morning (except for vacations), the phone would be ringing and someone would ask, "Where's Harry?" or "Is everything OK?" Through the years he worked on projects big and small, sharing his wisdom and wealth of knowledge with anyone asking (and probably a fair number who didn't ask!). He took great pride in his role with the South Clatsop County Food Bank.

He was involved with the Little League (umpire), all Kiwanis fundraisers (pancake feed, Christmas Tree, golf tournament), Camp Kiwanilong, Seaside Marathon, Seaside Beachcombers Festival, Seaside Civic and Convention Center and the Bob Chisholm Community Center.

He was an assistant Scoutmaster, helped create the Service Club Council (the ones who host the senior Christmas dinner), and was on more boards and committees than you can shake a stick at, including the old Seaside Union Hospital District, Camp Kiwanilong, City Budget and the Chamber of Commerce, just to name a few.

He drove to Kasilof, Alaska, at least five or six times to visit his son and daughter-in-law, and went dip netting one year, catching four salmon at once. Only later did he learn it was illegal for non-residents to use this form of fishing.

He had a lifelong love of cars and drove a 1971 Datsun 240Z around Seaside at the ripe old age of 84, and enjoyed golf, fishing, golf, clamming, golf, crabbing, golf, building things, golf, poker and slots and golf.

He took great pride in his annual flag-raising ceremony on the Fourth of July with a new flag in 2015 that was 10 feet by 12 feet, and too big to fly at half-staff!

He is survived by his children, Nancy Maplethorpe of Salem, Oregon, Harry Miller Jr. and his wife, Tracy, of Kasilof, Alaska, Sylvia Herrley of Troutdale, Oregon, and Paul Miller of Seaside, Oregon. He was preceded in death by a son-in-law, Bernie Herrley.

He was not a big man in stature, but was certainly a big man in the community, and he will be truly missed. The only venue big enough for him to take his final bow is the Seaside Civic and Convention Center, which will take place on Sunday, Jan. 15, 2017, at 2 p.m.

Please: No flowers, but send all remembrances to the South Clatsop County Food Bank, Camp Kiwanilong or to Columbia Memorial Hospice.

Hughes-Ransom Mortuary and Crematory in Seaside is in charge of the arrangements. Please visit www.hughes-ransom.com to share memories and sign the guest book.
