Apply now for Oregon Traditional Arts Apprenticeship Program

EUGENE —The Oregon Folklife Network is now accepting applications for its Traditional Arts Apprenticeship Program for 2017. This TAAP program offers master traditional artists and culture keepers a $3,000 stipend to teach their art form to apprentices from their own communities, tribes, or cultural, religious or occupational group. The stipend pays masters to pass on their knowledge, skills and expertise to an apprentice of great promise, who is empowered through these lessons to continue carrying on Oregon's traditions.

Oregon's many traditional folk arts include McKenzie River drift boat building, Southeast Asian dance, Norwegian cooking and baking, Northwest logger poetry, Native American basket weaving, Middle Eastern embroidery, Irish or old time fiddling, African-American gospel singing, saddle making and rawhide braiding for working cowboys, and more.

Recent TAAP awardees have included an Iranian Santoor player, a hip-hop artist, a rawhide braider, and a storyteller from the Coos, Lower Umpqua and Siuslaw tribes.

The Oregon Folklife Network encourages applications from Oregonians engaged in these kinds of living cultural traditions emerging from a particular heritage or tribe. This program does not fund historic re-enactments, DIY revival crafts, or those who practice traditions that are not part of their own cultural heritage.

Contact Oregon Folklife Network first if you want to apply. Visit ofn.uoregon.edu, or contact Brad McMullen (ofn@uoregon.edu, 541-346-3820) for more information about your eligibility in the program.

A fillable application can be downloaded at the Oregon Folklife Network website: ofn.uoregon.edu. Staff members are available to advise applicants and even help fill out applications.

Applications are due at the Oregon Folklife Network office by 5 p.m. March 1. Send your complete application package to Oregon Folklife Network, 242 Knight Library, 6204 University of Oregon, Eugene, OR 97403-6204.

This program is funded in part by the National Endowment for the Arts, the Oregon Arts Commission, and by a grant from the Fred W. Fields Fund of the Oregon Community Foundation.

Oregon Folklife Network is administered by the University of Oregon and is supported in part by grants from the Oregon Arts Commission, the Oregon Historical Society, the Oregon Cultural Trust, and the NEA. The Oregon Folklife Network works to increase public investment in cultural traditions and those who practice them.
