Mandolin Orchestra to make musical rain at Liberty Theatre

ASTORIA — The Oregon Mandolin Orchestra will perform at the Liberty Theatre 7:30 p.m. Saturday, April 22, as part of a 2017 spring concert tour kicking off the group's eighth season. Doors open at 7 p.m.

A concert will be held in Portland the night before and in Ridgefield, Washington, the day after.

The Orchestra — with 24 instruments from the mandolin family and directed by Portland's leading mandolinist, Brian Oberlin — will perform movements from Mozart's Third and Fourth Violin Concertos and Hummel's Mandolin Concerto, as well as folk music from the Americas.

All three concerts will feature mandolin luminary Evan Marshall. The virtuoso will perform solos in the Mozart and Hummel Concertos. And, in a special performance, Marshall will join forces with Oberlin to play swing, bluegrass and classical as part of their duet, Twin Mandolin Slingers.

Founded in 2010, the Oregon Mandolin Orchestra has worked to revive the tradition of community mandolin orchestras popular in cities across North America during the early 20th century. The all-volunteer, Portland-based orchestra now boasts 24 members who play mandolin, mandola, mandocello and mandobass to create a warm, distinctive sound like musical rain.

Tickets are $18 for adults, $15 for students, seniors and military, and can be purchased online through <http://bit.ly/2mDNaaH>.

Hey-Ho Trio comes to Long Beach

LONG BEACH, WASH. — The Hey-Ho Trio, part of the Portland swing band the Midnight Serenaders, will perform popular music from the 1920s-'40s, hot jazz, Hawaiian Instrumentals and Blues at 7 p.m. Saturday, April 15, at the Peninsula

Arts Center, 504 Pacific Ave..

Formed in 2005, the Trio is reminiscent of the small swing combos popular during the '20s and '30s, adding a Hawaiian flavor with the inclusion of ukulele and Hawaiian Steel guitar. Led by crooner/rhythm guitarist Doug Sammons, the band's repertoire consists of specially chosen gems from the past, as well as vintage-sounding original songs.

Wine, beer, and other refreshments will be available.

Admission is $15 at the door or online through Brown Paper Tickets, or call 360-901-0962.
