

art from the Chef's Table

Welcome to the 17th Annual Spring Unveiling Arts Festival. While you're here, we invite you to experience an event within this event just for "Foodies." Local chefs have partnered with our galleries, selecting a work of art that has inspired them to create their own edible art just for the weekend...everything from special coffee drinks to lobster tail.

1 Castaways Restaurant and Tiki Bar's

Chef Josh is drawing his inspiration from the textures and multiple "cloud balls" by Larry Halvorsen from White Bird Gallery. They will have an appetizer sampler plate with baba ganoush, tahini, sambousek, grilled pita and other goodies. A Dawa cocktail with vodka, lime and honey, popular in Kenya, will also be available.

2 Public Coast Brewing Brewer Will Leroux is making a special keg of "Jalapeno-mango wheat beer" that will be on tap Friday, May 5th, until sold out. He took his direction from Don Dahlke's painting titled "Four Chairs" which portrays a view through a window to Cannon Beach. On display at Bronze Coast Gallery.

3 Sweet Basil's Cafe Inspired by Scott Fitzwater's "Reef Gap" dish at White Bird Gallery, Chef John Sova's entrée is called "Oyster Decadence" and includes Willapa Bay oysters baked with house-smoked pork belly in a creole cream sauce, topped with smoked Gruyere cheese.

4 The Bistro Chef Jack Stevenson is serving Totten Inlet, Washington mussels braised in tomato Konbu Dashi with Wasabi Miso Butter and Melted Leeks. He was inspired by Christopher Burkett's "Mussel Colony" photo taken in Cannon Beach. It is on display at Northwest By Northwest Gallery.

5 Seasons Cafe Chef Doug Brown has paired with Bronze Coast Gallery to present a "Spinach and Cheese Ravioli" topped with crab, inspired by Dan Chen's "Doug" bronze of an octopus with crab.

He is also pairing his crab and artichoke dip with the "Artichokes and Garlic" painting by Margret Short.

6 Pizza a'fetta: Chef James has added "The Land Meets Sea" Pizza, with wild mushrooms, crab, roasted peppers, red onion, topped with Montrachet cheese and inspired by Linda Wilder's "Golden Falls, Oregon" painting. It's on display at Bronze Coast Gallery.

7 Bella Espresso has a "Salted Nut White Mocha", with white chocolate,
