"Over the Rainbow," a "sculptured painting" by Terrie Remington

'Chasing Rainbows' honors Astoria Pride

ASTORIA — "Chasing Rainbows," part of a new gallery exhibition by Terrie Remington, will premiere this weekend in honor of Astoria Pride at Luminari Arts Gallery (1133 Commercial St.) and continue through July.

From 5 to 8 p.m. Saturday, July 8, the rest of the installation will be exhibited during the Art Walk.

"Terrie Remington has a unique style that she calls sculptured paintings that she developed over a lifetime," the gallery said in a release. "Her art combines technique combined with a spiritual view of the world."

Her latest passion, the gallery said, has been attempting to capture the elusiveness of rainbows that Remington sees dancing over the Columbia River.

Of rainbows, Remington says: "We may never catch one, but imagine what we may find along the way."

More of Terrie's rainbows and other work can be found at www.terrieremington.com.

Trail's End judged show accepting artist submissions

GEARHART — The Trails End Art Association's 67th annual judged show, taking place in July, is now open to all artists. Participants must submit their artwork between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. Sunday, June 25, and Monday, June 26.

Artists can enter in the following categories:

- Wet: oil, watercolor and miscellaneous (ink, monoprint, sepia, serigraph, lithograph)
- Dry: Pastel and miscellaneous (charcoal, colored pencil, graphite, etc.)
- Mixed media: collage and multi-media
- Photography
- 3-D sculpture, fine jewelry, fiber arts, wood working, fused glass

Artists may submit two pieces not to exceed 24 by 30 inches each. If a piece exceeds 720 square inches, only one piece will be accepted.

The show — which runs

Saturday, July 1, through Friday, July 28 — is open to entrants from throughout the Pacific Northwest, and artists of all ages: adults (older than 16), youth (13 to 16) and children (12 and younger).

Association members can submit their work for free. The Trail's End Art Gallery will receive a 15-percent commission on these sales; the artist keeps the remaining 85 percent.

Non-association members can submit their work at a $15 fee for one piece, and a $25 fee for two pieces. The gallery will receive a 30-percent commission on these sales; the artist keeps the remaining 70 percent.

The gala opening reception will take place 2 to 5 p.m. Saturday, July 1, at the Trail's End Art Gallery (656 A St.). An award ceremony will be held 3 p.m.

"There are cash prizes and this show has had great success with giving local artists exposure and sales," organizers said.

For more information, call the gallery at 503-717-9458 or visit trailsendart.org.

"We are the oldest gallery on the Oregon Coast featuring a variety of art techniques by our members," Trail's End President Richard Newman said in a release. "While we have new monthly shows all throughout the year, the Judged Annual Show is our highlight."
