

Lewis & Clark trail run series continues

FORT CLATSOP — Lewis and Clark National Historical Park will host its second annual trail run series Saturday, July 1.

Come for either a roughly 6K walk/run, including the Kwis Kwis Trail, or run a half-marathon course on the Fort to Sea Trail. Both courses will include long hilly sections. The routes are not accessible for most wheelchairs or strollers. No pets are permitted.

The run will begin at 9 a.m. at the Fort Clatsop replica; the fort's wooden gates will be the starting line. The finish line will be in the Fort Clatsop Picnic Area, where a prize drawing and refreshments will be held.

Registration runs 8 to 8:30 a.m. at the Fort Clatsop Visitor Center. The cost is the purchase of a $20 Annual Park Pass that grants entry into all three Lewis & Clark Trail Series Events. Registration is free with any pass that allows entry into national parks. Participants younger than 18 need a parent or guardian to sign the registration form.

This event is sponsored by the Lewis & Clark National Park Association, which supports park education and interpretative activities. The third event is scheduled for Sept. 30.

The series includes “several different exhilarating events along beautiful trails through forest landscapes, complete with a welcoming and friendly race atmosphere,” organizers wrote. “This series is open to walkers and runners of all ages and provides the opportunity to experience the Northwest coast the way people have done it for thousands of years — on footpaths.”

Go 'Behind the Bar' with Heritage Museum art collection

ASTORIA — An extraordinary collection of artwork is the subject of the latest exhibit at the Heritage Museum in Astoria.

“Behind the Bar: The Folk Art of Arvi Ostrom and the Snug Harbor” features a fraction of the more than 10,000 drawings, paintings and carvings created by Astoria's prolific folk artist and saloon operator Arvi Ostrom.

Many people may recall Arvi's Union Town tavern the Snug Harbor and his “drawings,” but few could imagine the breadth of his work and talent.

“Upon Arvi's death in 1994, his grandson Ken Carlson became the caretaker of this vast collection. He has endeavored to preserve his grandfather's legacy and to share it with the public for the first time,” the museum said in a release. “He, with the aid of his friend and documentarian, Ben Saboonchian, has produced a great video about Arvi and his art.” Clatsop County Historical Society is a nonprofit educational organization dedicated to preserving and presenting the history of Clatsop County Oregon and the surrounding area.
