A Newfoundland dog

Seaman's Day gives dogs their due

FORT CLATSOP — The 33 people of the Lewis and Clark Expedition wintered at Fort Clatsop in 1805 to 1806. And the 34th “member” of this expedition was Seaman, Capt. Meriwether Lewis’ Newfoundland dog.

The 24rd annual Seaman's Day commemorating the dog of the Corps of Discovery will be held Wednesday, July 12, at Lewis and Clark National Historical Park, Fort Clatsop.

“According to the explorers’ journals, Seaman served as a watchdog, hunter, retriever, companion and diplomat during the two-and-a-half year voyage of discovery,” the park said in a release. “The park has invited some guest Newfoundland dogs and their people to volunteer this day.”

This special event offers visitors an opportunity to learn about Seaman and to meet some modern Newfoundland dogs.

The day's schedule includes: 10:30 a.m. flintlock program; 11 a.m. Netul River Trail walk; 11:30 a.m. “Our Dog Seaman” talk; 12:30 p.m. meet the Newfoundland dogs; 1:30 p.m. Netul River Trail walk; 2:30 p.m. meet the Newfoundland dogs; 3:30 p.m. “Our Dog Seaman” talk; 4:30 p.m. flintlock program.

Kids Corps dog-themed crafts will be available from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the visitor center. Costumed rangers will be at the fort during the day to answer questions and share living history.

The park is open daily 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Admission is $5 per adult and free for youth 15 and younger. Passes to National Park Service sites are accepted.

For more information, call the park at 503-861-2471.
