

Get smart about buying fresh seafood on the coast

Dock tours in Warrenton demystify buying locally

The Daily Astorian

WARRENTON — Curious about acquiring crab? Salivating for fresh-caught salmon? Organizers hope guided, dock-side tours Friday will illuminate where and how to buy seafood locally.

Modeled after a similar program in Newport, Clatsop County's version of "Shop the Dock" will start at the docks in the Warrenton Marina and include a behind-the-scenes tour of the Skipanon Brand Seafood cannery.

Organizers hope the tours this week, and a second round scheduled in September, will help demystify the process of buying seafood by connecting seafood lovers with commercial fishermen and processors. Experts with Oregon Sea Grant and the Oregon State University Extension Service will lead the tours. Unlike Newport, Clatsop County does not have as many fishermen selling directly from their boats, so the tours will focus on other types of sellers.

In Newport, the tours have occurred every summer since 2014 and drew more than

In Warrenton, two tours are scheduled for Friday, one at 9 a.m. and a second at 11 a.m. at 550 N.E. Harbor Place.

The 90-minute tours are free, but space is limited. Call the extension office at 503-325-8573 to register, preferably by Wednesday.

Organizers recommend attendees wear comfortable walking shoes and arrive 15 minutes early.

The second round of tours will be held Sept. 15, also in Warrenton.

Bonamici tours response boats at Port

By JACK HEFFERNAN
The Daily Astorian

U.S. Rep. Suzanne Bonamici visited the Port of Astoria on Monday to tour boats designated to respond to shipboard fires and oil spills.

The boats are operated by both private companies like Clean Rivers Cooperative and public agencies like the Port

They are part of a network called Maritime Fire & Safety Association, which receives 10 percent of its funding from the U.S. Department of Homeland Security.

The boats are only deployed a handful of times each year. Most recently, Clean Rivers Cooperative's boat responded to an oil tanker that ran aground Thursday morning near Skamokawa, Washington. The tanker did not leak any oil, but the boat was sent to the site just in case.

"It's like insurance. You don't use it all the time. But when you do, you really need it," said Bonamici, D-Oregon, who has worked with the association to help secure funding. "It's a great collaboration."

OBITUARIES

Rilla Colean Soukkala Warrenton Oct. 17, 1938 — July 4, 2017

Rilla Colean Soukkala, 78, a resident of Warrenton, Oregon, finished her race and passed on to glory on the Fourth of July, 2017. She was born in Denver, Colorado, on Oct. 17, 1938, to Colean is survived by her husband, Ray; her sister, Barbara (Robert) Primrose; her loving in-laws, Buddy and Caroline Bradley, Keith Soukkala, Mark and Loretta Ray, Michael and Karen Soukkala and Steven and Rayla Goldberg; and many adored nieces and nephews.

Rilla Colean Soukkala

Born with many physical challenges, Colean's life was a miracle from start to finish. The Kellys ignored the doctor's advice to abort their baby, and she was born with a song in her heart that would continue to play until her final moment on earth. It was evident to all that Colean was gifted by God when she began to play the piano at only 3 years of age. Songs of praise flowed from her like a river throughout her entire life as she ministered in worship.

In August 1958, Colean married George Raymond Soukkala, and they enjoyed a wonderful life together for almost 59 years. Over the years, their home was haven to more than 150 children. Colean loved, nurtured and befriended every child who came to her for care, and she continued to pray for each of them until the very end.

On Wednesday, Aug. 2, a "Praise Gathering" will be held in honor of Colean. The service will begin at 6:30 p.m. at the Mission Christian Fellowship, 525 N.W. Warrenton Drive, Warrenton, Oregon.

No doubt, countless numbers of songs have been sung by our beautiful Colean, but this she sang repeatedly for several days before going home to be with her Savior:

*I'll say yes, Lord, yes
 To your will and to your way
 I'll say yes, Lord, yes
 I will trust you and obey
 When your Spirit speaks to me
 With my whole heart I'll agree
 And my answer will be yes, Lord, yes*
