

Cutter Fir changes command

Haag is new commander

By EDWARD STRATTON
The Daily Astorian

Cmdr. Kristen Serumgard on Friday passed command of the U.S. Coast Guard cutter Fir to Lt. Cmdr. Jason Haag.

The Fir, known as The Bar Tender, maintains 117 buoys and other aids to navigation in the Columbia River and along the coastline of Oregon and Washington state. The ship also helps maintain several weather buoys for the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, along with enforcing fisheries and boating safety laws, responding to oil spills, waterway security and searches and rescues. The cutter is based at the Aids to Navigation Team on North Tongue Point.

Serumgard, the sixth commander of Fir since its commissioning in 2003 and a Virginia native, took over in 2014 from Lt. Cmdr. Jon Kreisler. She leaves to the East Coast to command the International Ice Patrol, which monitors the presence of icebergs in the Atlantic and Arctic oceans. She is married to retired Coast Guardsman Andrew Smith.

Serumgard thanked her commanders and crew for the support. "It doesn't get all the press that drug-busting does, but at the end of the day, when we sail away from an aid and know that it will guide mariners to safe harbor, you feel pretty good about your work," she said.

Haag, a native of Elmira, comes to Fir from the Office of Resources, Organizational Analysis and Workforce Management at Coast Guard headquarters in Washington, D.C. He oversaw a $120 million budget to support senior staff services and government finance contracts.

Haag said that from what he's heard, Serumgard loved being commander of Fir and its crew. "Thank you for trusting me with the next watch," he said.

Brownsmead man arrested on drug, sex abuse charges

The Daily Astorian

A Brownsmead man was arrested Friday on sex abuse and drug charges.

Clatsop County Sheriff's Office deputies arrested Greg Howard Smith, 50, after a 16-year-old boy being treated at a hospital early Thursday morning reported Smith drugged and sexually abused him.

Smith allegedly gave the boy alcohol and marijuana, though further tests revealed he had ingested other drugs.

The boy said he woke up to Smith sexually abusing him inside a camp trailer near a residence at 42800 Fish Lane where Smith was sleeping. The boy had spent the previous night with Smith, whom he described as a friend.

Also known as Greg Tyrone Jesus, the man is a registered sex offender following a 2006 conviction in Columbia County. He was sentenced to six years in prison for first-degree sex abuse and second-degree sodomy. A third-degree rape charge in Clatsop County that same year was dismissed.

Smith has been charged with delivery of a controlled substance to a minor, delivery of marijuana to a minor, providing alcohol to a minor, third-degree sex abuse, first-degree sodomy, felon in possession of a firearm and luring a minor.

Seaside couple charged over drugs, child neglect

The Daily Astorian

Two more Seaside residents who were responsible for children have been arrested on drug charges.

Ruben Chavez Gonzales, 40, and Heather Marie Gonzales, 42, were arrested by the Clatsop County Sheriff's Office at their 429 Holladay Drive home on Friday. After obtaining a search warrant, deputies found methamphet-amine, digital scales and packaging material. They were both charged with delivery of methamphetamine and first-degree child neglect.

Their three children, who were not at the residence at the time, were placed in protective custody.

Two other Seaside residents, Austin Randall Perry-Wenner and Michelle Renee Brelin, were arrested on heroin trafficking charges last week. Three children were also at the residence at the time of the arrest, along with two dogs and 11 puppies.

Fishing boat sinks at Warrenton Marina, leaks fuel

The Daily Astorian

WARRENTON — A fishing boat sank at the Warrenton Marina and leaked diesel fuel into the water.

The U.S. Coast Guard received a report about 5:30 a.m. on Sunday that the Western Skies, a 43-foot boat, sank at its moorings and was partially submerged.

The Coast Guard said it opened the Oil Spill Liability Trust Fund for $40,000 and hired Global Diving and Salvage to conduct the cleanup.

No one appeared to be on the boat when it sank, according to the Coast Guard.

OBITUARIES

Dawna May Rose

Seaside

July 24, 1962 — June 23, 2017

Heaven received another angel, Dawna May Rose. She left this world June 23, 2017, surrounded by family in Seaside, Oregon. Dawna was born to Vernon and Madge Lauzon on July 24, 1962, in Hood River, Oregon. She is preceded in death by both parents and her sisters, Lynette and Mary Katherine.

Dawna grew up in Dufur, Oregon. She lived and traveled many places. She served in the U.S. Army as a patient administration specialist, received the Sharpshooting Badge (M-16 rifle) and Expert Qualification Badge (hand grenade).

She was a participant in Relay For Life for many years. She enjoyed working with people, and had various jobs as a truck driver, waitress, receptionist, Oregon Cherry Growers and caregiving for an assisted living facility.

She loved the outdoors, camping, fishing, flowers, gardening, bird watching, butterflies, barbecues, picnics, Sunday drives, walking on the beach, visiting state parks, pigs, cats, Yahtzee, Monopoly and spending time with family
