Has this ever happened to you?

t is recess time. You and another L kid want to play with the same ball. You feel angry. This is called conflict. A conflict is a disagreement between people.

While many conflicts start with bad feelings, they don't have to end that way. Sometimes people act in an unfair or "foul" way when they are in a conflict. Fouls make people feel more and more angry. People can also act in a fair way that settles a conflict and makes everyone involved feel good. This is called resolution to the conflict.

Luck decides who will get their way. Both sides must agree to "flip the coin," "draw straws," etc.

Everybody gets a turn.

Compromise Both give up something and both get something.

Using hurtful names to make another person feel bad. These frighten people into doing things one person's way.

Thinking the whole conflict is the fault of the other person.

What are some FAIR

things these two critters

could say to settle their conflict?

Opposite Headlines

Select a headline in today's newspaper. Rewrite it to say just the opposite of what is says now.

Read the above lists of fair and foul ways to handle a conflict. Then look at how the children in these cartoons handle the conflict over the ball. Decide if the children are being fair or foul.

Standards Link: Health: Students know the difference between positive and negative behavior in conflict situations.

Double Word Search

Pretend not to hear. Instead listen to your own and tell yourself, "That's their problem, not "and" and "I'm OK just the way I am."

How to Deal with Bullies

Find a safe to talk to. Make a list of people you could talk to about being bullied or about you have seen others being bullied.

Be a buddy. Kids who are alone are more likely to be bullied. Make a plan to walk with a wherever you think you might meet a bully.

Don't bully back. Getting angry and back sometimes is just what the bully wants. It's dangerous too, because someone could get hurt.

Conflicts in the News Find an example of a conflict in the newspaper.

Are the people in the conflict saying and doing things that are FAIR or FOUL? Try to understand how people on both sides of the conflict feel. Think of fair ways they could act. Write a letter to the editor sharing your thoughts on the matter. Standards Link: Language Arts / Research: Use the newspaper to locate information; Writing Applications: Write formal letters that state a position.

ANSWER: He spent all day doing good turns.
