Learn about AAUW and the arts at Tuesday meeting

The Daily Astorian

The Astoria chapter of the American Association of University Women invites the public to attend its first 2017-18 meeting at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Astoria Senior Center, 1111 Exchange St. The program is "At the Center: AAUW and the Arts."

Attendees get an overview of the Senior Center activities, and Carol Newman and Allison Tigard from the Arts Council of Clatsop County give a short presentation on the economic contribution of Arts and Culture in Clatsop County. AAUW Astoria leadership shares the year's themed programs, "Our Women, Are/Our Leaders"; four members briefly talk about the coming year's involvement in Women Interested in Going to School (WINGS), scholarships, forums and education.

Refreshments will be served.

The invitation is out for people who might be interested in joining the Astoria branch of AAUW, a national organization whose mission is "advancing equity for women and girls through advocacy, education, philanthropy and research." For information, call Pamela Alegria at 503-325-8024.

Please join us with congratulations for Ken & DeLores Richards
as we celebrate their 61 years
of sweet love, faith, joy and happiness on September 24, 2017

They lovingly raised four kids, and now have seven grandchildren and one great grandchild. They continue to work together in their business, KD Properties, travel when they can, and frequently give back to the community, which includes their music ministry, Dwelling Place - just one of the ways they bring joy to the community, while reflecting God's love.

We honor them and thank them for the inspiration they are to all who know them - they make a wonderful difference in this community and in our world. We love you, and are so very grateful for the gift of your love and presence. Please keep praying and playing together!

Sending our love as we joyfully celebrate the two of you and all you mean to us, your family
