Scrap Hunger event collects food for those in need

The Daily Astorian

WARRENTON — The 11th annual Scrap Hunger scrapbooking, crafting and card-making event takes place from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday at the Warrenton Grade School, 820 S.W. Cedar Ave. The theme of the day is, "Let's Help Feed Those in Need."

The admission "fee" is eight nonperishable food items, which will give the person entering three tickets for a chance to win prizes donated by local businesses. In support of Toys for Tots, two raffle tickets will be given for every unwrapped toy brought in. Every three additional food items brought in is good for another raffle ticket. For those not bringing food items, the cost to enter is $5.

All food and cash will be given to the Warrenton Fire Department for its food distribution program to those in need this winter. The non-crafting community is welcome, and encouraged to stop by and help by donating nonperishable food items or cash. Those attending should bring craft projects and a soft pillow for comfort.

The event will be filled with prize drawings, games, items for sale, make-and-takes and demonstrations by local artists, including Rod and Terry Dewey of Oregon Coast Designs. Making cards for the Ronald McDonald House residents, so they can write home, is also planned. Used or new leftover scraps or craft items are also being collected at the event for the Ronald McDonald House craft area.

Those who have a crafting talent to share who would like to do a demonstration or make and take, or for questions, call Brenda McKune at 503-861-8126 or email brendamckune@live.com

Mexican culture celebrated; program set to help families

The Daily Astorian

LONG BEACH, Wash. — Long Beach Peninsula residents and visitors are invited to attend a free, family-friendly program, presented by the DoGoodnics, celebrating Hispanic culture and assisting peninsula Hispanic families who have experienced detention or deportation by federal agents. The event is from 7 to 9 p.m. Oct. 20, at the Chautauqua Lodge, 304 14th Street N.W. in Long Beach.

Invited speakers include Fernando Rodriguez, president of the Lower Columbia Hispanic Council Board of Directors; Erin Glenn, Spanish teacher at the Ocean Beach School District; Ann Reeves, American Civil Liberties Union People Power community group coordinator; and Sydney Stevens, Oysterville writer and historian.

Attendees are encouraged to wear Mexican colors of red, green and white and to share comments, suggestions and cash donations to assist some of the 30-plus peninsula Hispanic detainees experiencing major financial problems. There are free refreshments, displays of Mexican art, Latin music and an opportunity to purchase pinatas.

Those unable to attend, but who are willing to offer financial assistance, can donate via checks to DoGoodnics, 1605 229th Place, Ocean Park, WA 98640. For information, contact Robert or Gwen Brake at 360-665-2784 or via ooobear@centurytel.net
