Donkey basketball returns to Armory

The Daily Astorian

Donkey basketball returns Saturday to the Astoria Armory. Riders will attempt to corral their steeds and score buckets in a five-on-five format. Teams include the Donkey Boys of Astoria, last year’s tournament champions representing the Armory Skatepark, along with Tongue Point Job Corps Center, homeless advocacy group Riverfolk and the Seaside Police Department.

Organized by the Clatsop County Shrine Club, the event supports an annual dinner for participants in the Oregon East-West Shrine All-Star Football Game. Helping organize the event is the Evergreen Masonic Lodge No. 137 of Seaside and Suih-

Tyler Little of the Astoria Armory Donkey Boys attempts a long-range shot Saturday in a first-round defeat of Medix Ambulance. The donkey basketball game raised at least $1,500 for Al Kadur Shriners.

konen & Associates of Salem. Doors open at 1 p.m. Saturday, and games tip off at 2 p.m. Tickets are available at the door for $8, and children 3 and under get in free. The Armory is located at 1636 Exchange St.

Astoria forest teaches students at annual field day

The Daily Astorian

Nearly 250 sixth-graders took a hike in the Bill Lecture Demonstration Forest near the Clatsop County Fairgrounds last week to learn about forestry and natural resources.

The field day, held annually for more than 50 years, included 11 educational stations covering topics, such as the social, economic and environmental benefits of forests; how human activity affects them; water quality and watersheds; wildlife; recreation; forest fungi; fires and the forestry industry.

This year’s event, in the Bill Lecture Demonstration Forest for the first time, was organized by Charley Moyer with the state Department of Forestry and Valerie Elder, a locally based Oregon State University Extension Service agent in forestry and natural resources.

“Clatsop County is 94 percent forestland — it is valuable for student to experience the place we live, the forest, and meet the people who call the woods their office,” Elder said in a release.

Final reading of ‘Turn of the Screw’ coming tonight

The Daily Astorian

The Liberty Theatre’s final staged reading of Henry James’ haunting story “The Turn of the Screw” will take place 7 p.m.

tonight in the McTavish Room. Reader’s Theatre shows are $15. There will be no late seating. Doors open at 6:30 p.m. Originally published in 1898, “The Turn of the Screw” first appeared in serial format in Collier’s Weekly magazine. Because of its originality, the novella became a favorite text of academics who subscribe to New Criticism.

CORRECTION

Hullender birth year incorrect — In an obituary published Wednesday for Patricia (Patty) Louise Hullender, the wrong birth year was given. She was born in 1929, not 1921.
