

POINT of view

THE DAILY ASTORIAN // QUESTION OF THE WEEK

'What's a favorite Halloween costume or memory?'

"Trick or treating with an old roommate in downtown Astoria with our strollers, both kids wearing camouflage — camouflage little Army guys. Last year at the Armory as pretty fun, too."

Mandy Nestor, Astoria

"You know how Michael Jackson had a kid named Blanket? I dressed up as his cousin, Quilt. I wore a vintage, hand-crafted, crazy quilt zip-up housecoat, with a cool red rubber hair wig. Not everyone got it."

Rebecca Wright, Astoria

"I dressed up as Dolly Parton. It was fun! I used great big pink balloons for the boobs."

Kathleen Axtell, Astoria

Nona J. Johanns

Phoenix, Arizona
April 18, 1921 — Sept. 10, 2017

Nona Jane Johanns passed away Sept. 10, 2017, in Glendale, Arizona. She was born in Mitchell, South Dakota, April 18, 1921, to Glenn and Mary Smith. Nona and her identical twin sister, Zona, grew up with their older brother, Richard. In 1951, Zona passed away at 30 years of age.

Nona attended school in Mitchell, South Dakota, graduating from high school in 1939. She attended South Dakota State College in Brookings, South Dakota, and Dakota Wesleyan in Mitchell, where she met her future husband, Charles (Chuck) Mooney, whom she married Jan. 10, 1942.

In 1946, after World War II, when Chuck returned from the European Theater, Nona, Chuck and their daughter, Jackie, moved to Seaside, Oregon, where Nona resided for 66 years. Their children, Susan and Mitchell (Mitch), were born in Seaside in the years that followed. Mr. Mooney was partner with the late Jim Cummings owning and operating C & M Construction in Seaside for 25 years. Chuck passed away in 1993.

As well as being a homemaker, Nona worked for the Seaside School District for 11 years. She was a member of Calvary Episcopal Church, the American Contract Bridge League, Elks and Astoria Golf and Country Club. She was an avid golfer for over 50 years. On rainy days she played bridge (a "bridge nut"), and worked crossword and jigsaw puzzles.

Nona Johanns

Nona married Lawrence (Larry) J. Johanns on Oct. 20, 1994. Mr. Johanns owned and operated the Seaside bumper cars. She continued to enjoy her life as the two families blended together. Larry passed away in 2006, and in 2012, Nona moved to Phoenix, Arizona.

She is survived by her two daughters, Jacqueline (Jackie) J. Olson of Wilsonville, Oregon, and Susan K. Sands of Phoenix, Arizona; her son, Mitchell (Mitch) K. Mooney of Frisco, Texas; one stepdaughter, Kristin Futer; 13 grandchildren; 23 great-grandchildren; six great-great grandchildren; and two nieces and two nephews. She left a legacy of faith, love and integrity to those who survived her.

Remembrances may be made in her name to Calvary Episcopal Church in Seaside.

Douglas Francis Parvi

Warrenton
Oct. 1, 1954 — Oct. 10, 2017

A beautiful soul, full of love and grace, Douglas Francis Parvi, loving and devoted father, grandfather, brother, uncle, friend and husband of Laura Ann Johnson Parvi, of Warrenton, Oregon, passed away at the age of 63 on Oct. 10, 2017, while on vacation with his family in Bronx, New York.

Doug, as his family and friends knew him, was born to Francis and Kathryn Leek Parvi on Oct. 1, 1954, in Vancouver, Washington. He attended Lieser Elementary, McLoughlin Junior High, and was in the 1973 graduating class at Fort Vancouver High School. He later attended Clark College, and the Ron Bailie School of Broadcasting in 1981.

In 1974, Doug joined the Navy, enabling him to serve and explore many places including the East Coast of the U.S., San Diego, San Francisco, Japan, Cuba, Italy, France, Spain, Korea and the Philippines.

Doug lived a passionate life, but nothing could top his love of family, faith, music and the Washington Huskies! Doug loved sports from an early age. In elementary, junior high and high school he participated in football, baseball and track. He was the catcher on his Little League baseball team, and the center on his high school football team.

In his youth Doug was an active member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, where he attended regularly with his family. He was an acolyte during his junior high and high school years. In his later years, Doug served God through his music and worship by playing on worship teams. Doug loved to play his guitar on Sundays at the Calvary Assembly of God.

Doug lived and breathed music. He took up the trombone, guitar and drums at an early age. Encouraged by their grandmother, Doug and his sister, Brenda, would perform for the family. Doug played in the junior high and high school bands and stage bands, alongside his sister.

During and after his high school years, Doug played trombone in the Portland State Stage band for the director, neighbor and friend, Don Cammack. Doug participated in several sacred and secular performances during his lifetime as a songwriter, singer, drummer and guitarist. Doug was in a Christian band called Tried by Fire, who produced an album titled "The Sacrifice." Music was so much more to Doug; music was his calling.

Watching college football on Saturdays brought him hours of enjoyment, especially when the Washington Huskies played. Doug was an enthusiastic and devoted Washington Husky fan. He loved to do his famous Husky dance when his team scored a touchdown, much to the annoyance of his children, who are avid Oregon Ducks fans.

Doug worked for 15 years at Safeway stores in Oregon. His last nine years he was employed at the Safeway in Astoria. He loved his Safeway family.

In addition to his wife, Laura, Doug is survived by his three sisters, Dian and Doug Lieberman of Olympia, Washington, Jane and Les Wilson of Camano Island, Washington, and Brenda and David McKay of Battle Ground, Washington; his children, Hannah Parvi of

Douglas Parvi

Canby, Oregon, Brittany Parvi of Eugene, Oregon, Douglas Parvi Jr. of Everson, Washington, Tonya and Kam Leon of Tacoma, Washington, Bryan Nelson of Texas and Heather Green of Texas; stepsons Chris and Shannan Jones of Astoria, Oregon, Ed and Kim Jones of Beaverton, Oregon, Aaron Jones of Salem, Oregon, Nick and Cristine Bredleau of Beaverton, Oregon, and Kevin Bredleau of Gresham, Oregon; grandchildren Hunter Nelson, Wesley, Isiah, and Noah Brown, and Josh, Ella, Bianna, Hannah, Sydney, Molly, Aubrey, Ann and Arabella Jones; nieces Elaine McArthur, Whitney and Ben Holland, Sara Corbin, Rachel Cooper and Amy Jessup; nephew Edward Wilson; great-nephews Oliver Jessup, Orion and Barret Wilson and Cooper Holland; great-niece Grace Corbin; and his ever faithful and loving dog, Washington.

Doug spent the last nine years of his life with his kind and caring wife, Laura, whom he continuously praised for her loving ways. She was truly the love of his life, and all of Doug's family and friends are forever thankful they found each other and shared their unconditional love for each other. Their love, and their many adventures together, brought them both so much joy and happiness.

Family, friends and acquaintances will remember Doug for his kind heart, sweet smile, wonderful laugh, warm soul and his generous spirit. Doug loved with all of his heart. Doug always put others' needs before his own. He did this on a daily basis by feeding the homeless, buying a co-worker new shoes, giving a customer money who went through his checkout stand at Safeway because they could not pay for their groceries, or bringing flowers to the staff at Columbia Memorial Hospital for nurses' week or when they had a hard day.

A graveside service for Doug will be on Saturday, Nov. 4, 2017 at 1:30 p.m. at Greenwood Cemetery in Astoria, Oregon, followed by a memorial service at Calvary Assembly of God in Warrenton, Oregon, at 3 p.m. A potluck reception will follow at the church.

After the reception, bring the family, and please wear a Washington Husky shirt, and join us in watching the Huskies vs. Ducks game in Doug's honor at Rod's Bar & Grill (now known as Trina & Ron's Place). The game time is 7 p.m.

A graveside service will be at Willamette National Cemetery in Portland, Oregon, with full military honors, at a later date.

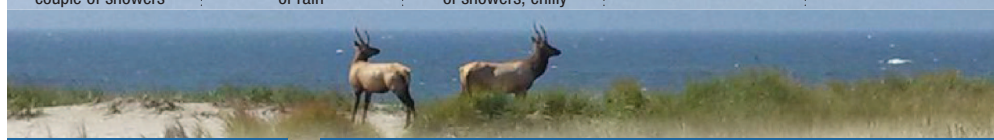

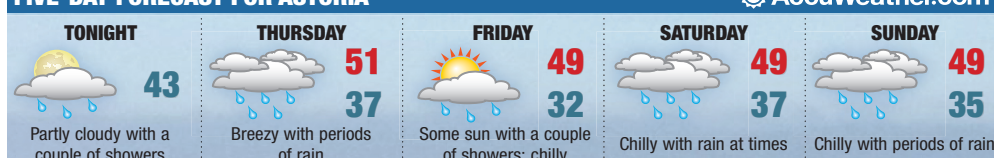

Donations can be made to the Clatsop County Relay For Life, where Doug has donated his time, his music, his heart and his love for others for the last nine years. Doug wrote and recorded a song dedicated to the Relay "Here We Go." The 2018 Relay For Life will be dedicated to Doug.
