

Car club shares love of vintage autos

Photo by Susanne Newman, NorthWest Dodge Brothers Car Club

Fifteen Dodge Brothers cars with drivers and friends spent a few hours on Sept. 13 sharing their love of old cars with the younger generations. Darryle Neimi, with the support of the Lower Columbia Classic Car Club, is mentoring an auto-tech class at Warrenton High School. Many students were encouraged to come out and take a look at the cars, which were built from 1922 to 1934. Club members displayed their wooden floor boards, heavy steel frames, no seat belts and simple engines. They took the cars to Tongue Point Job Corps Center, where club members enjoyed a barbecue with students and staff, and again shared their cars and answered questions.

Local mortgage specialist serves in South Africa

The Daily Astorian

A local mortgage specialist earned a service-oriented trip to South Africa with her top-ranked performance in national lender Academy Mortgage Corp.

Kathy Israel and her husband Kent were among more than 160 loan officers, managers, executives and other representatives who spent two days improving the Makwetse Primary School near Kruger National Park during a recent service expedition.

Makwetse Primary School has more than 700 students, sometimes 100 or more per classroom, and a crumbling infrastructure. Academy volunteers helped build a school kitchen and keyhole gardens, painted classrooms and windows, refurbished more than 400 student desks and painted bookshelves.

"It was amazing to experience life on another continent with such grateful and happy people who were full of song, dance, and appreciation," Israel said in a
