

Ballroom, West Coast Swing dance lessons still on tap

ASTORIA — It's not too late to join dance instructor Jen Miller's new dance classes in November. One set of classes focuses on Beginning Ballroom Dance, another on Level No. 2 West Coast Swing.

The next lessons will take place Tuesdays, Nov. 14, and Tuesday, Nov. 21, at the Astoria Arts & Movement Center.

6 p.m.: Beginning Ballroom Dance. These classes will introduce basic patterns, timing and lead-follow techniques for partner dance.

7 p.m.: Level No. 2 West Coast Swing. This series will review and expand on the basics, then introduce variations and styling tips.

The prorated price is $15 per person to drop in per class, $25 per person per class to drop in to both ballroom and West Coast Swing.

Have a 'horrible' day at Quarantine Station Saturday

KNAPPTON COVE — The historic U.S. Quarantine Station Museum at Knappton Cove will host an "O, How Horrible is the Day" open house 1 to 4 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 11. Admission is free, but donations are welcome.

Enjoy hot cider and history at the museum's annual event remembering the Lewis and Clark Expedition.

The event is held in conjunction with Hometown Tourism Day.

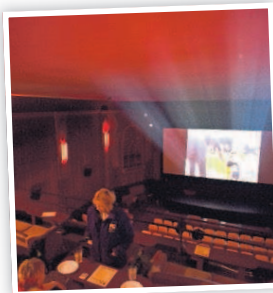

The museum is located 3 miles upriver, on Washington State Route 401, from the Washington side of the Astoria Bridge.
