

Library shows 'Workboats of the Northwest' film series

SEASIDE — The Friends of the Seaside Library will host documentary filmmaker Ron Walker as he presents his film series "Workboats of the Northwest" 1 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 9. The event will take place in the Community Room.

Walker, a longtime Astoria resident, is a filmmaker, musician and artist. He learned the craft of filmmaking when he worked as the resident music composer for Portland's Film Loft in the 1980s. During this period, he composed the music for the Mount St. Helens film "This Place in Time," which is shown at the Mount St. Helens interpretive center.

Walker shoots, edits and composes the music for the films he produces. His films are about people, their hobbies and passions, and often feature historical themes centered on the North Coast.

The "Workboats of the Northwest" series will highlight three short films: "The Pearl," the story of a fisherwoman and her 1928 fishing boat; "The Princess," about the salvage of a Bumble Bee fishing boat from the bottom of the ocean; and, "The Virginia V," about taking a trip on one of the last steamboats of the Pacific Northwest.

The Seaside Public Library is located at 1131 Broadway St. For more information, call 503-738-6742 or visit seasidelibrary.org.
