The Daily Astorian

YAMHILL — The No. 1-ranked Seaside boys basketball team continued to cruise through its preseason schedule unchallenged, as the Gulls led 22-8 after one quarter on their way to an easy 77-55 win Tuesday night over Yamhill-Carlton.

Seaside — which had the best 1-2 punch in the state last year with Jackson Januik and Hunter Thompson — still has the best 1-2 punch at the 4A level, with juniors Chase Januik and Payton Westerholm, who combined for 45 points.

Januik scored 12 of his 25 in the fourth quarter, and Westerholm finished with 20.

The Gulls improve to 4-0, while the Tigers fall to 1-4.

A tough Seaside defense, including Ryan Hague, No. 4, converge on a Yamhill-Carlton shooter.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Yamhill-Carlton stuns Seaside girls

YAMHILL — The No. 1-ranked Yamhill-Carlton Tigers came out on the plus side of a 56-point swing from last year's meeting with Seaside, in a nonleague girls basketball game Tuesday night.

After losing last year's game to the Gulls, 52-25, Yamhill-Carlton got even and then some, defeating Seaside 55-26 on the Tigers' home floor.

Yamhill-Carlton improves to 5-0 overall, while the Gulls fall to 1-3.

A basket by Seaside's Emy Kiser midway through the first quarter tied the game at 8-8, but a half-hour later, the Tigers held a 34-8 halftime lead.

Anesha Smart had six quick points to open the third quarter, in which the Gulls outscored Yamhill-Carlton 10-6.

Annaka Garhofer had eight points to lead Seaside, while Sadie Home had 15 points for the Tigers, to go with 10 points apiece by Yamhill's Megan Gaibler and Rebecca Whitchurch.

Knappa boys speed past Gaston

GASTON — The Knappa Loggers won their third straight Tuesday night, scoring an easy 77-55 win at Gaston to open the Northwest League schedule.

A close game at halftime (Knappa 33, Gaston 28) turned into a decisive win for the Loggers, who outscored the Greyhounds 44-27 in the second half.

"Gaston is a very much improved team," said Knappa coach Chris Spencer. "They were up (19-17) after one quarter, but we did most of our damage in the third," outscoring Gaston, 31-12.

"We were hoping to use our depth in the second half, get the ball to Dale (Takalo) in good spots, and have Timber (Engblom) push the tempo," he said. "And Dale did a lot for us again (scoring 23 points), Colton (Weirup) hit some big shots and scored 13; Timber had 15 and Eli (Takalo) finished with 11. Four guys in double figures and scoring over 70 points usually gets us a win."

Sophomore Riley Marshall had 23 points for the Greyhounds.

Knappa hosts Vernonia on Thursday, with Vernonia coming off an 83-41 win over City Christian.

Gaston zooms by Knappa girls

GASTON — Gaston's Charity Hall and Taylor Bassel combined to score 29 points Tuesday night, helping the Greyhounds post a 52-32 win over visiting Knappa in a Northwest League girls basketball opener.

Gaston led 19-5 after one quarter, and 31-8 at halftime.

Hall had 16 points for the Greyhounds, while Madelynn Weaver also had 16 for the Loggers, to go with five steals. Paris Vanderburg dished out seven assists and Vicki Ramvick had seven rebounds for Knappa.

Rainier holds off Warrenton girls

RAINIER — The Warrenton Lady Warriors faced their first big test of the season Tuesday night, and played well but ultimately fell short at Rainier, as the Columbians held off the Warriors 49-36.

Warrenton scored a combined five points in the first and third quarters — not enough to keep pace with Rainier and senior post Desirae Hansen, who finished with 24 points.

Tyla Little led the Warriors with 18 points, while teammate Claire Bussert had three quick fouls and missed much of the first half.

"The shots just didn't fall for us in the first and third (quarters)," said Warrenton coach Robert Hoepfl. "We competed hard in the second half, but we had dug too big of a hole for ourselves. You can't have two- and three-point quarters and expect to stay with a good team like Rainier."
