Health fee increases to take effect at county

The Daily Astorian

Clatsop County residents can expect slight fee increases at the Public Health Department next year.

Office visit fees typically range from $85 to $130 but will now fall between $88 and $134. Vaccine administration fees will rise by less than $2, while second and subsequent copies of birth and death certificates will hike from $20 to $25. The increases will take effect in January after approval from the Board of Commissioners on Wednesday.

State mandates increased safety around pulled-over vehicles

The Daily Astorian

Beginning in January, drivers will be required to move over to another lane or slow down by at least 5 mph below the posted speed limit for any vehicle stopped next to the side of the road displaying hazard lights or other signs of distress.

Under current law, drivers have to move over — or if unable to move over safely, to slow down — only for emergency services, roadside assistance and tow trucks when they displaying warning lights.

The offense for breaking the new law will remain a Class B traffic violation. A person is not in violation of the move-over law if a stopped vehicle is in a designated parking area.

The state Department of Transportation was behind the law as a means to increase safety for motorists stopped along highways. Between 2011 and 2015, there were 167 serious crashes and eight deaths in incidents where a vehicle was parked on the side of the road and there was no emergency vehicle with lights on involved. There were six serious crashes and no deaths when an emergency vehicle with hazard lights was aiding a motorist.

Carol Diana Barth

Astoria

Dec. 8, 1935 — Dec. 10, 2017

Carol Diana Barth passed away quietly at home on Sunday, Dec. 10, 2017. She had celebrated her 82nd birthday on Dec. 8 with children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren in attendance.

Carol Diana Maas was born on Dec. 8, 1935, to Frank and Frankie Maas in Villa Park, Illinois, a suburb of Chicago. She graduated from high school there.

On Oct. 1, 1955, she married William Clark. The couple lived in Washington state and had three children. They divorced in 1970, and Carol pursued and obtained a bachelor of arts degree from Pacific Lutheran University.

She taught school, briefly in Washington, and then moved to the Astoria area in 1972, where she was employed teaching art and French at Knappa High School.

In June 1975, she married Vern Barth of Astoria. They remained married until his death in August 2012. During their marriage, Carol continued her teaching career at Astoria High School, first as a substitute, then as a full-time Spanish teacher. She also obtained her master's degree from the University of Oregon during that time. She retired from the Astoria School District in 1997.

Carol was active in the community, working with various North Coast groups and projects.

She was a member of the American Association of University Women, the National Education Association, Oregon Education Association and the Moose Lodge.

She was an avid traveler and photographer, and a talented artist who was skilled in drawing, painting, sculpting and working with clay. She participated in local art exhibits, and had works displayed at a number of venues in the area.

Carol is survived by her two daughters, Leanna Glover of Astoria and Maria Yankus of Prineville; and by her son, Marcus Clark of Colorado. Her only sibling, Robert Maas of Colorado, passed away several years ago. She is also survived by her sons-in-law, Don Glover and Alan Yankus; and by nine grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

A funeral service to remember and honor Carol's life will be held on Saturday, Dec. 16, 2017, at 2 p.m., at Hughes-Ransom Mortuary, 576 12th St. in Astoria.

Sign the online guest book, upload photos/videos, and share memories at www.hughes-ransom.com and www.facebook.com/hughesransommortuary

Donations in Carol's memory may be made to the Astoria Moose Lodge, 420 17th St., Astoria, OR 97103.
