

“One of the weekends we were looking at was an issue because it was the weekend of the Hood to Coast” relay race, Tyler said.

Although they knew each other in high school, Tyler and Amy got reacquainted five years ago. A friendship blossomed into a romance, and on Christmas morning in 2016, Tyler proposed.

Shortly after the proposal, Amy attended the bridal show, and the planning began.

“We had a good experience,” Tyler said about the wedding preparations.

“Everyone helped us and got back to us quickly,” Amy added. “It was something we would do again.” ♥

